Girl Scouts Celebrate Week

Plots Denied By Teamster Boss for West

Brewster Quizzed; Federal Grand Jury Studies Hoffa's Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank W. Brewster, West Coast teamsters boss, swore today his union never plotted to engage in racketeering or to control law enforcement in Portland, Ore.

Brewster, chairman of the Western Conference of Teamsters, testified at the Senate Rackets Committee's hearings on charges that he and some other teamster bigwigs conspired to take over the Portland underworld.

Reads Statement

Reading from a prepared statement, Brewster said:

"As to the alleged conspiracy on the part of the teamsters or any official or employe thereof to engage in any racket in Portland in connivance with any public official of the city, I will make the following categorical statements under oath:

"1. I know of no conspiracy or plan or effort on the part of the teamsters or any official or employe thereof to engage in any racket in the City of Portland or elsewhere in collaboration with any public official or anyone else.

"2. I know of no conspiracy or plan or effort on the part of the teamsters or any official or employe thereof to gain control of the law enforcement agencies of the City of Portland, the State of Oregon, or of any official of said city or state. Our sole interest there is the same as in every state, that is, to elect officials who are not anti-labor and who will oppose so-called right-to-work laws.

"3. I have never authorized Elkins, Maloney or McLaughlin, directly or indirectly to represent the teamsters or myself in Portland or anywhere else on any matter.

Accused Brewster

(Big Jim Elkins is a Portland racketeer who accused Brewster of conspiring with Seattle racketeers Tom Maloney and Joe McLaughlin to "muscle in" on Portland rackets in which Elkins once was the kingpin).

"4. I have never authorized anyone directly or indirectly, to engage in any racket on behalf of the teamsters or myself in Portland or anywhere else."

Brewster also said he knows of no conspiracy or plan, as alleged by Howard Morgan, former Democratic state chairman of Oregon, to plant a man "acceptable" to the teamsters on the Oregon Liquor Control Comission.

His appearance before a special Senate committee investigating labor-industry racketeering followed his refusal two months ago to answer questions before the Senate Investigations subcommittee. He contended the subcommittee had no authority to question him, and was cited for contempt of Congress as a result.

Meanwhile, a federal grand jury meeting just a couple of blocks away from the Capitol hearings, was to resume its investigation of bribery charges against Teamsters Union Vice President James R. Hoffa.

Hoffa was arrested Wednesday night by FBI agents on charges he hired a New York attorney, John Cheasty, to get a job on the Senate committee staff and feed Hoffa committee secrets.

Provided Documents

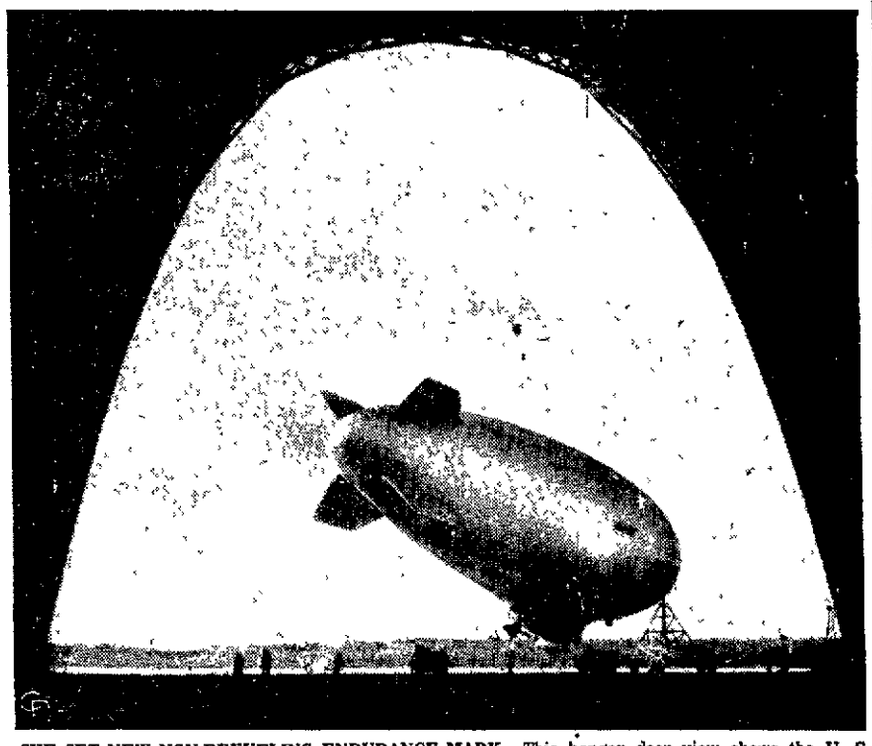
Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) said Cheasty reported the situation to the committee, joined its staff, and under committee and FBI supervision provided some documents to Hoffa

The grand jury also is considering bribery charges against Hyman I. Fishbach, a 47-year-old Miami lawyer and former counsel for House investigating committees, through whom Hoffa allegedly arranged for Cheasty's services.

With Brewster as the final scheduled witness, the Senate committee prepared to wind up its hearing into the Portland situation, and turn then to the affairs of Dave Beck, president of the 1½-million-member Teamsters Union. New hearings will start about April 1.

Scores of Towns Are Isolated

Blizzards Rip States In Midwest; 6 Killed



SHE SET NEW NON-REFUELING ENDURANCE MARK. This hangar door view shows the U. S. Navy blimp ZPG2 in South Weymouth, Mass., before taking off on its record non-refueling endurance flight, which broke the existing record of 200 hours, 12 minutes. The blimp also bettered 7,000 miles, breaking the old Graf Zeppelin's distance of 6,980 miles. The aircraft soared from South Weymouth to the Virgin islands.

Minnesota, Iowa Areas Hardest Hit

Drifts Close Roads; Wires, Power Out; Hundreds Stranded

By The Associated Press

Blizzards whipped across northern Midwest areas today, isolating scores of communities, as other violent mid-March storms swept sections in the central part of the country.

Minnesota, Iowa, the Dakotas and Nebraska appeared the hardest hit by the late winter icy storms which erupted Thursday. At least six deaths were attributed to the blizzard conditions, four in Minnesota and two in Iowa. Rain, sleet and snow spread across wide areas.

Huge Drifts Pile Up

Strong northerly winds whipped the heavy snow into huge drifts and visibility was cut to zero in some places. Wind gusts up to 70 m.p.h. lashed areas in Iowa and Minnesota yesterday as the storm rolled across the upper Mississippi Valley.

Travel was curtailed and in many places halted. Telephone and power service was disrupted and schools were closed. At least a dozen small towns in northwestern Iowa were isolated when communications were knocked out. Similar conditions were reported in other parts of the storm belt.

About 300 of the 500 persons attending a high school district basketball tournament at Rolfe, Iowa, were forced to spend the night in the school gymnasium because of snow-blocked and icy highways.

Get Six Inches of Snow

Snow measured up to 6 inches in sections of Minnesota and Iowa and blizzard conditions continued for parts of Minnesota and North Dakota.

As the storm headed into the upper Great Lakes region, cold air spread across most of the central part of the country. Temperatures were more than 30 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier in many places and were far below freezing in the storm zone.

The cold air dipped as far south as Oklahoma. Chicago felt the sting of the icy air as the mercury dropped from a high of 71 Thursday to below freezing this morning.

Severe Storms Strike

Along the leading edge of the cold front, thunderstorms broke out Thursday from the Kentucky-Tennessee area northward to extreme Upper Michigan.

Tornadic winds struck Illinois, with a twister hitting Parkville and Sidney in the east central part of the state. Several buildings were damaged and trees uprooted, but no persons were injured.

Meanwhile, springlike weather continued in the eastern quarter and western third of the country.

Tax Valuation For the County Is $101 Million

Totals $76,251,240 In Real Estate; Rest Comes From Utilities

The over-all value of Marion County real estate and public utilities, including Marion City, the seven villages and 15 townships, was $101,223,780 on Dec. 31, 1956, according to the 1956 tax abstract released today by Maurice Clements, Marion County auditor.

The total includes $76,251,240 as the value of the county's real estate and $24,972,540 as the value of all public utilities.

City Value $43,831,340

The report notes there are 240,887 acres in the county outside city and village corporation limits. The value of this real estate is $28,718,230. The value of the city and village real estate totals $47,533,010, of which $43,831,340 represents the value in Marion city alone.

Public utility evaluations outside the city and villages totals $17,337,610, Mr. Clements said, with the value of utilities in Marion and the villages totals $7,634,930. The value of public utilities in Marion alone amounts to $6,642,880.

Values Include Buildings

Mr. Clements emphasized that the values of real estate in the county include buildings and similar improvements thereon.

Delinquent taxes in the county on Dec. 31 amounted to $30,475, according to the abstract, $21,476 of which was in Marion city itself. Special assessments during 1956 amounted to $59,414, with $36,202 spent in the city.

The total tax levy for 1956, based on the several tax rates, was $2,714,310, Mr. Clements noted. First half collections on this levy closed March 2. The total amount of tax money which must be collected by the end of June is $2,304,200, the county auditor noted This amount includes the tax plus the special assessments plus all delinquent taxes.

Breakdown of Collections

The $2,714,310 collection include $20,244 which goes to the state for retirement of World War II bonus bonds; $334,041 for the operation of the county government and retirement of Marion General Hospital bonds; $75,291 to townships for operations and outstanding debts; $1,994,458 for operation of the schools and bond retirement, $290,274 for city and village operations, debt retirement and other costs. Of the latter amount, $272,563 is collected for Marion city.

Menon Wins Election

BOMBAY (AP) — V. K. Khrishna Menon, Prime Minister Nehru's chief spokesman abroad, has won election to Parliament. He defeated Socialist Peter Alvares, 171,494 to 123,936 in North Bombay. Communists and fellow travelers in the district campaigned for Menon, who up to now has been a member of Parliament's upper house, elected by state legislatures.

Sets Qualifications for Posts

Council Amends Sewer Ordinance

Marion City Council voted 7-1 Thursday night to establish qualifications for the positions of sanitary engineer and two sewer inspectors created in an ordinance adopted at its regular meeting Monday night.

The special meeting last night was called Tuesday by Councilman-at-large John Courtright Jr. and four other councilmen and resulted in a blast of criticism Thursday morning from Safety-Service Director R. Guy Bigelow and Mayor Gale D. Ireland aimed at Mr. Courtright.

MR. BIGELOW criticized the decision to consider establishing the qualifications after council previously had unanimously adopted the ordinance creating the positions without qualifications, leaving the selection of the people to fill the new posts up to his judgment.

He said Thursday that after Monday night's council meeting he had appointed Theodore A. Klingler of 323 S. Vine St. to the sanitary engineer position, and that Mr. Klingler had tendered his resignation to Floyd G. Browne and Associates, where he had been employed the last three years.

Neither Mr. Bigelow nor Mayor Ireland commented today as to whether or not the qualifications would block Mr. Klingler's appointment.

But Mayor Ireland said that the qualifications established for the inspectors might make it difficult to hire men for these positions at the $15 a day pay scale provided in the original ordinance.

THERE ALSO WAS a question raised at last night's meeting as to whether or not the three new employes could be used for all the duties Mr. Bigelow had said would be assigned to them.

Councilman-at-large R. G. Haldeman told the council that a letter from the city's financial advisers indicated there would be no excess funds in the sewer service charge collections with which to provide for location and correction of illegal sewer taps and cross-connections.

He said this meant that there would be no funds with which to pay the three new employes except while they are working on sewer construction projects financed by a $1,135,000 sewer bond issue or possibly while working on special assessment projects for the city engineering department.

This would mean a lopping off of

Parents' Meetings Held

Half of Those Eligible Sign for Kindergarten

Approximately 50 per cent of the children eligible to enroll in the first grade of Marion city schools in September have been registered for the proposed summer kindergarten, Robert S. Brown, superintendent of schools, said today.

A series of meetings with the parents of these children has been held in the elementary buildings to explain the proposed program. The last of the series will be held at Olney Ave. School on Monday at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Brown urged all parents who have been unable to attend any previous meetings in their districts to be present at the Olney session.

Under the proposed plan the summer kindergarten would begin June 24 and last for eight weeks. A part of each day during a two-week period would be used for "Safety Town" instruction.

All children in the Marion city school district who will enter the first grade in September would be eligible to enroll in the program, the superintendent said. He pointed out that attendance would be voluntary and no tuition charge would be levied. A minimum of school supplies would have to be purchased by parents, who also would be expected to provide transportation for their children.

Designed as a pre-school orientation program, Mr. Brown said the sessions would be open to children who previously have attended private kindergartens.

Registrations for the program are now being taken at each elementary building in the city. Parents are asked to register their child with the principal of the school in their district.

726 Ohioans Face Draft Call in April

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Selective Service headquarters here today issued an April draft call for 726 men. The call in March was for 831 men

Youngest registrant who may be inducted during the April call must be at least 22 years old on or before April 1, unless he is a volunteer or delinquent.

Have A-Weapons

BONN, Germany (AP) — The Defense Ministry today confirmed that American forces in West Germany are armed with atomic weapons. A spokesman for the West German ministry said the A-weapons include projectiles, rockets and bombs. American military authorities in Europe declined comment.

Pool Officials Heartened by Early Returns

Response Gratifying, Say Co-Chairmen as Pledges Start Coming

Officials of the Marion Community Swimming Pool, Inc., were "very encouraged" today by the early returns in the campaign to obtain pledges of money for a $173,000 pool.

"We are extremely gratified by the response," said George Howser and T. L Hufert, co-chairmen of pledge campaign and trustees of the non-profit pool organization.

The first mail received at campaign headquarters Thursday brought 65 pledges Letters seeking pledges were mailed the day before to residents throughout the city and county.

The officials emphasized that the deadline for receipt of pledges has been moved to April 1, rather than March 15 as originally planned.

The pool organization is seeking pledges only at this time, and will go ahead for plans for a pool only if sufficient pledges are received by April 1.

The pool is planned on a site adjacent to Lincoln Park

Pool officials said today they have received a number of inquiries on what rates would be charged for swimming at the new pool.

Mr. Howard and Mr. Hufert said today the rates will be comparable to rates charged in pools in communities in the Marion area The rates will be set by the Marion Recreation Commission, which will operate the pool after it is constructed

More Planes Grounded by Bomb Scares

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Anonymous bomb warnings Thursday night grounded seven airliners in Los Angeles, four at Dallas, one at Wichita Falls, Tex., and another at Phoenix, Ariz.

The searches turned up nothing.

A Trans-World Constellation, 20 minutes out of Los Angeles bound for New York was called back to International Airport.

The telephone operator who received the anonymous call here said a man with a mature voice "who talked slow with a nasal twang," told her there was a bomb on the New York bound plane

TWA officials ordered searches of five other Connies at International and one at Lockheed terminal in nearby Burbank.

2 Records Set In 11-Day Trip Of Navy Blimp

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The Navy blimp ZPG-2 will end a record-breaking 11-day romp through the skies tonight with her "well done" already inscribed on the 343-foot airship's log.

The blimp left Weymouth Naval Air Station, Mass., at 6:32 p.m. March 4. She was due to touch at Key West Naval Air Station at 6:30 tonight. More than 7,000 miles of territory had passed beneath her by Thursday, eclipsing a 1929 mark of 6,980 miles set by the German Graf Zeppelin.

Earlier, the blimp also had broken the old record of 200 hours 12 minutes for nonrefueled flight.

The blimp's crew got this radio message from Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of naval operations, as their craft floated over Florida: "Heartiest congratulations on establishing a new world endurance record for airships. Your untiring efforts and devotion are most commendable. This flight . . is another achievement which serves to demonstrate the continuing search for technological advantages by the U.S. Navy. Well done."

House Group Cuts Funds by $517 Millions

18 Agencies Affected As Appropriations Committee Uses Axe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today slashed $516,993,300 from the $5,923,195,000 in new funds President Eisenhower requested for 18 agencies.

It was the biggest cut, moneywise, made by the committee on four bills it has sent to the House this year. The funds are for the fiscal year starting July 1.

If the House upholds the committee next week, it will have cut 660 million dollars from presidential requests totaling about $10,300,000,000 to date. On the three previous bills, none of which has passed the Senate, the House has followed its committee's recommendations without change.

Major slashes imposed by the committee in the independent offices appropriation bill were $206,657,700 from Veterans Administration funds, $71,700,000 from the

Prepares To Take Over Control

Egyptians' 'Civil' Staff Joins U.N. Gaza Force

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) —The might of Egypt was represented in the Gaza Strip today by a major general designated governor, 50 military policemen, 10 officers and 12 civilian officials.

Otherwise 2,600 U. N troops still were the major military force in the disputed area following the arrival in Gaza City Thursday of the group sent by President Nasser to resume civilian control for Egypt.

There was no retaliation so far from Israel. Earlier, Premier David Ben-Gurion had served notice his government reserved its "freedom of action" if the Egyptians took back the Gaza Strip. He said he would use "all political and security steps" to prevent the Egyptians' return.

General and Aides Arrive

The Israelis pulled out of Gaza last Thursday on the assumption the U. N. Emergency Force would exercise both military and civil control of the Mediterranean coastal area alongside Israel's Negeb Desert.

The new Egyptian governor of Gaza, Maj. Gen. Hassan Abdel Latif, arrived late Thursday from Cairo with his 72-man escort

A UNEF platoon was on hand to receive him, and the Arabs in Gaza hailed him with shouts of: "Long live Nasser, long live Arabism, welcome to the Egyptian administration."

U. N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche and Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, UNEF commander, already were in Gaza when the Egyptian party arrived.

Seeks To Appease Israel

The United States, meanwhile, tried to appease Israel for the failure to keep Egypt out of Gaza. State Department press officer Lincoln White told newsmen talks would start soon on resumption of U. S. aid to the Jewish nation.

White declined to say whether resumption of aid to Egypt and Jordan also was being considered. American financial assistance for all three countries were halted when Israel attacked Egypt Oct. 29.

In London, the governing Conservative party and the opposition Laborites joined in demanding that the U. N. guarantee Israel against Arab aggression.

Train Wreck Kills 10

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Two fast express trains collided today in central Finland, killing 10 persons and injuring 60. It was the worst train wreck in the country's history.

Temperature Here Begins Slow Drop

The illusion that "spring has sprung" early this year already is fading as temperatures are showing a slow decline. The mercury at noon today read 44, a distinct contrast to the upper 60's which Marion residents have been enjoying the last few days.

The outlook for the weekend is continued cool and fair, with winter coats likely to take the place again of the spring jackets which have been seen on the streets the last few days.

Although March is showing its diversified personality, it has managed to maintain its windy nature. Marionites are getting in the habit daily of holding their hats as the wind whips past them on city streets.

Guard Against Revolt

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Communist police and militia clamped a rigid guard on strategic centers and national shrines today as Hungary observed its big patriotic day the 109th anniversary of the 1848 revolt against Austria. For days the Communist regime has taken precautions against a new outbreak on this day.

Maple Syrup Belt Hurt by Mild Weather

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—What are they grumbling about in Geauga County's maple syrup belt?

The balmy weather of the past two days and nights.

And what are they hoping for in that same land of sweet tree sap? A few good nights of freezing weather.

"A few more days of weather like this and the season will be over," Leland D. Schuler, county agricultural agent, remarked Thursday. "We're still in business if the forecast for cold weather Friday night holds up."

A pattern of alternate freezing and thawing weather is needed. The normal season now is two-thirds gone, and only about 20 per cent of the average annual output has been produced, Schuler said. The county normally produces about 65,000 gallons every spring.

The season ends when sugar maples bud.

Science Declared Answer to Farm Surplus Problems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Science, not politics, must provide the answer to problems of farm surplus says one of President Eisenhower's chief agriculture aides.

Wheeler McMillen, vice-president of the Farm Journal and executive director of President Eisenhower's commission for increased industrial uses of agricultural products, said political price support programs are simply stopgap measures.

They may provide temporary relief, he told the 22nd annual meeting of the Producers Livestock Market, but they cannot solve the problems of overproduction.

Production of farm products is now about 4 or 5 per cent ahead of demand, McMillen said, and in 10 years the figure will probably rise to between 8 and 10 per cent.

To take up the slack, McMillen said, farmers and market people should push research for new uses of farm produce, particularly cotton, wheat, and feed grains, where most of the excess lies.

A program is planned for the evening, and will begin at 7:30 in the school hall. Walter Mason is program chairman, and Joseph Flannery, grand knight of the K. of C. Lodge, will act as master of ceremonies.

Members of the K. of C. and the school children will present the program. There will be novelty numbers, Irish jigs, skits and songs.

1956 State Fair Netted $26,051, Rhodes Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Auditor James A. Rhodes reports that Ohio's annual state fair, operated last year with a net profit of $26,051.89.

Four outstanding attractions, a cowboy star, auto races, wrestling and a popular vocalist contributed to the fair's success, Rhodes reported. He added that harness races and the nightly horse shows operated at losses.

The auditor's report said that while the exposition was operated at a profit, actually the fairground expenditures for the whole year were $408,978 in excess of receipts.

Auto Trim Is Hurt By Chemical Ash From Plant Blaze

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Brown mottled spots on hundreds of autos in the area have auto insurance agencies groaning.

The spots come from a fine, white ash that filled the air after a fire at the Allied Chemical & Dye Corp. plant in South Point, Ohio, Saturday when thousands of tons of commercial fertilizer were destroyed. The smoke, Allied chemists said, contained nitrous oxide and chlorine.

Whenever the ash fallout hit stainless steel, the kind used in auto window trims, blemishes appeared.

"I guess we'll be hearing about this for a long time," one insurance man ruefully remarked.

House Retains Corporation, Excise Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House—after listening to denunciations of high taxes and big government spending—has voted for a year's extension of present corporation and excise tax rates.

House passage of the bill Thursday sent it to the Senate, where action is expected before April 1.

On that date, corporation and excise (sales) tax rates are scheduled to drop automatically. This would cut Treasury revenues about three billion dollars and endanger prospects for a budget surplus.

The bill passed by the House on a voice vote would extend until April 1, 1958, the present 52 per cent levy on corporation profits. It also would continue for the same span the present excise rates on liquor, cigarettes, passenger automobiles and auto parts and accessories.

Without the new legislation, the corporation tax rate would fall to 47 per cent and excise levels would drop to those in effect before the Korean War.

Denies Bail Bid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Associate Supreme Court Justice Burton Thursday denied an application for release on bail filed by Poncet Davis of Akron, Ohio, now serving a prison term for federal income tax violations. Justice Burton cited a rule that such applications must be taken first to the U. S. circuit courts.

Davis had asked freedom on bond pending a final ruling on a legal issue in his case. Davis claims that he should have been sentenced under a 1939 law which set a limit of one year on his offense.

He is serving a four-year term in the Medal Center at Springfield, Mo. He will be eligible for parole Sept. 27. His term expires June 26, 1959.

Jesus Loved Them

By Patrick and Garrison

MOTHER OF JOHN

"And many women were there beholding afar off, which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministering unto him: Among which was . . . the mother of Zebedee's children."

—Matthew XXVII:55-56

Bible scholars agree that the name of the Beloved Disciple's mother was probably Salome.

They base this belief on the fact that the passage in Mark XV:40, parallel to that quoted above, refers to her by that name.

It is further conjectured on reliable grounds that she was probably the sister of Mary, the mother of Jesus.

From the scanty account given of her in the Gospel narrative, it is evident that she, like her sons John and James, was a devoted follower of Jesus, who was present at the Crucifixion and assisted at His entombment.

Matthew, in his Gospel (XX:20) relates that on one occasion she came to Jesus with her two sons, "desiring a certain thing of him."

"And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom."

But Jesus told her:

"Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?"

Both John and James, says Matthew, assured Jesus that they were able to drink of His bitter cup. And Jesus agreed that "ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand and on my left, is not mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father."

Chicago Girl Strangles On Her Skipping Rope

CHICAGO (AP) — A 5-year-old girl strangled on her "skipping" rope Thursday when she fell from a neighbor's board fence on which she was attempting to do a tight rope walk.

Cathie Ann Mulhall was dead when her father Gerald, found her hanging from a length of clothesline attached to a telephone pole. Two small playmates said the rope became entangled around her throat and one end caught in the top of the fence.

Social Unrest Spreads Across Russia

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Another revolution is slowly gaining momentum in Russia today.

Forty years after the revolt against czarism and the subsequent Bolshevik seizure of power, striking changes can be noticed. Russia's present revolution is not one of violence, but of social ferment, spurred by steady though passive pressure on a regime still bent only on massive power.

Old Russia saw centuries of terror, oppression, isolation from a progressing West.

Modern Russia saw horror, famine, mass deportations, purges and executions. She experienced brief alliances with a deadly enemy, Hitler Germany, and catstrophic war with that enemy. She saw wartime alliance with the West and a violent Cold War against her former allies. She produced fantastic hero worship of Stalin, sudden destruction of the Stalin legend and now the equally fantastic attempt to restore Stalin's ghost to respectability.

Fourth of a Series

Like Czar Nicholas I in 1849, modern Russia's rulers brutally crushed a Hungarian revolution. The reasons were the same—in 1849 to save an autocrat, Emperor Francis Joseph, and in 1956 to save the rule of totalitarian communism.

Perhaps, however, communism will become its own worst enemy. Most Russians, by Western standards, still are badly off. But many millions are immeasureably better off materially than their fathers. A conservative, property-minded middle class is growing. It is the sort of class Russia never had under czarism. Despite popular conceptions of communism, it is possible now to be a ruble millionaire, to bequeath property, to amass private goods. This is a softening influence, a developing shield against the barbarism of the past when there was no middle class such as transformed the West.

EDUCATION in Russia is almost universal. To industrialize the nation in its bid for world demination, Soviet leaders had to educate it. Keeping this population sealed off from awareness of the outside becomes progressively more difficult.

The people have more. But they know they deserve even more. They want more of the material blessings in which Westerners made great advances. They want more spiritual benefits, more room for intellectual adventure, for argument, disagreement, for shaping their own destinies. They are weary of lectures and strictures, of being told "it is necessary . . . you must do this . . . you must think that. . . ."

NEW GENERATION. Students at Lomonsov University in Moscow head for a chemistry lecture. Unlike his father, the "new Soviet man" is receiving education. The education is making it harder for the Kremlin to obtain blind obedience.

They weary of being a little ashamed of their leaders. Thus the government must, for example distort the Hungarian story and warn against "slanderous rumors." And once again, as always when the rulers worried, old bogies are trotted out. Russians are told the United States plans atomic war against them. While the motherland is in danger, an excuse exists for whatever measures the rulers adopt to counter pressure from the population.

ONLY A HANDFUL of Bolsheviks seized a promising Russian revolution in 1917. Possibly it was Russia's destiny, in tune with the endless seeking for an absolute answer to all questions and in keeping with a tradition of rule by terror.

Freedom seemed almost a negative, sinful idea to Russians. There are two Russian words for freedom. One is "svoboda," meaning feedom as applied to relations between government and governed. Russians had little understanding of the concept. The other, "volya," meant more—a sort of freedom of soul, which could be reconciled with regimentation.

Acceptance of regimentation was habitual with Russians ever since Peter the Great put large sections of the population in uniform. But eastern ideas seeped in, and Russian thinkers began regarding their rulers with a sort of horror.

"FEW," WROTE Alexander Herzen a century ago, "know what happens beneath the shroud with which the state covers the corpses, bloodstains, military trials, while maintaining hypocritically and arrogantly there is neither blood nor corpse beneath the shroud."

The words could apply to Russia today.

Forty years ago Bolsheviks seized a revolution, twisted it, imposed upside-down czarism with regimentation, terror, slave labor, frozen prison camps, secret police. Under Stalin, the regime invited famine in order to crush peasant independence and force collectivism. At the same time it labored to build heavy industry and military might, while keeping the people poor in life's amenities.

Stalin nailed down his dictatorship by 1938, after years of fearful bloodletting purges. Before the merciless tonguelashings of a fanatical prosecutor, Andrei Vishinsky, famous Bolsheviks paraded abjectly before their judges with fantastic confessions. Zinoviev, Kamenev, Rykov, many other Lenin lieutenants died before firing squads. So did hundreds of Red army officers. Thousands went into Siberian exile.

WHEN THE SMOKE cleared, Stalin was absolute ruler, a "Little Father" image of the old czars, to be worshiped as a demigod. Stalin, the dictator and World War II generalissimo, died in March, 1953.

Lesser men remained. No one of them could fill a dictator's shoes. A mutual protective league —the collective leadership — emerged after ganging up on Police Boss Beria, labelling him imperialist spy and executing him along with thousands of his dread MVD secret police organization.

Nervous over the people's mood, the leaders promised abundant consumer goods. It seemed as if the leaders felt a slow, revolutionary pressure from the growing middle class. There were relaxations of Stalinism, denunciations of Stalin. But it brought ferment, and the leaders once again had to draw the reins.

MANY A Russian leader proclaims that "all roads lead to communism." But is the Soviet road leading to communism? Has it not already led to an entrenched privileged class, interested primarily in keeping what it has and unhappy at the prospect of risking its position for the greater glory of world Marxism?

And isn't the Soviet Union really Imperial Russia in a new guise? Like Russia's last four czars, today's Kremlin eyes the Middle East and Asia greedily Japan and Britain stopped the restless czars' push outward. Today the United States stands in the way of spreading Soviet "enlightenment."

Russian rulers many times before had forgotten their own backyard in their urge to conquest. While they concentrated on power, they built ferment within the empire itself. The most striking aspect of Russian history is the way it has of repeating itself. Will it repeat itself once more?

Bible Words for Today

EXODUS 14:15 — "And the Lord said unto Moses, Wherefore criest thou unto Me? Speak unto the children of Israel, that they go forward." (King James Version)

* * *

Some boys playing in the snow decided to see who could make the straightest tracks. One was almost straight. When asked how he made the straight trail, he stated that he kept his eyes on a tree.

Runners must keep to the track and their mind on the goal, and put their whole souls and bodies into it to win.

No one ever enjoyed his religious experience unless he kept his eyes on Christ. Peter sank when he took his eyes off Jesus.

Looking back may be good for evaluation, but progress is made by going forward.

No matter what others do, and "this world is no friend to grace," we must "press with vigor on," always forward using our failures as stepping stones to success. It is easy to see difficulties, to hesitate, to fear, but God needs men willing to go forward.

Dr. Earl E. Reisner, Pastor
Methodist Church
Toppenish, Wash.

Air Conditioners May Be Operated By Solar Energy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The sun beating down on your roof may some day cool your entire house.

Not directly, of course, but the sun's heat may be collected as solar energy and used to operate air conditioners, says a Battelle Memorial Institute scientist.

James A. Eibling, writing in the March issue of the Institute's Journal, said air conditioning, residential heating and hot water heating may be the first large scale use of solar energy in most parts of the United States.

Sun collected on a well-insulated, flat-roofed house would provide enough energy to meet normal household uses, Eibling said. But there's one drawback:

No one has yet come up with an economical way to store the energy for use at night and on cloudy days.

Vet Gets College Degree From VA Hospital Bed

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—John Huff, 39, tuberculosis patient at the Veterans Administration Center here, became the nation's first veteran to get a college degree from his hospital bed, the VA said today.

In a full-dress commencement ceremony held at the VA Center—complete with cap and gown and commencement speeches — Huff was awarded his bachelor of arts degree by Dr. Samuel C. Marble, president of Wilmington College.

Huff had completed a portion of his work toward a degree at Wilmington College when he was admitted to the VA Hospital with tuberculosis in 1951. Five years of correspondence courses finally enabled Huff to complete the necessary requirements.

St. Patrick's Orange

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Sure and St. Patrick himself won't be wearing the green on his day, Sunday.

Someone, apparently an Orangeman from Northern Ireland, dumped orange paint over St. Patrick's statue in front of St. Michael's Hospital Thursday.

Said Capt. Charles Kelly of the police force:

"A catastrophe."

The Question

When President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles backed a theory that the Middle East could be pacified by moral force, they raised the question of good faith in an area traditionally ruled by intrigue and treachery.

They gambled with the risk that they "had gone to Munich" and thereby had put their trust in a political leader so enmeshed in schemes of his own that his promises were worthless.

Col. Nasser had the power to upset whatever they might hope to accomplish. Israel, itself, had veto power over their design.

There could be no peace between Israel and Egypt, in other words, unless both parties to the dispute were sufficiently imbued with a desire for peace that they would quit provoking each other.

It was a gamble against the odds — a gesture that commanded admiration while it stirred misgivings. Naturally, the misgivings were strongest among those who had most cause to mistrust moral force among people who never had been noted for yielding to it. The British and French, accustomed to intrigue and treachery in their efforts to keep peace in the Middle East, thought the United States had started a game they could not win.

That is the question that has been hanging fire since late in 1956. The answer now is forthcoming.

Sen. Lausche Scores

It took more than Sen. Lausche's one-man stand against a Pan-Am Games stadium appropriation in the federal budget to knock it out of the State Department's request. The idea was opposed by others, too.

Cleveland, itself, never was completely sold on the project that would have given it another public stadium with federal help. Although Clevelanders went through the motions of nailing Sen. Lausche's hide to the barn door for crystallizing opposition to the stadium appropriation, they did not have their civic hearts in it. Sen. Lausche knew that.

Nevertheless, for suggesting that here was a place where a few million dollars would be lopped off the budget bloodlessly he was pasted vigorously by Cleveland newspapers. Cleveland politicos cut his throat from ear to ear. No doubt many taxpayers who yearn for relief from the endless sweating out of billions of revenue got their wires crossed and cursed out Sen. Lausche for suggesting that they save money in their own bailiwick.

Yet with one shrewd move, Sen. Lausche drew national attention as a freshman senator. It may be true, as political cynics say it is, that there are no votes in budget-cutting. But Sen. Lausche does not need to worry about votes until 1961. His first necessity is to establish a reputation — and it is significant that Ohio's shrewdest politician has decided to be known as a money-saver.

Outlaw List

A proposal to rejigger the Ohio Constitution to legalize local-option gambling so bingo can get back into action seems to be an exact duplicate of a New York proposal.

In both cases, voters would have a chance to tamper with the constitution's absolute prohibition of lotteries. The tampering would be honey-baited with the proviso that lotteries then could be legalized by local option, subject to rules apparently tough enough to keep professional gamblers at arm's length.

That is the catch — keeping the pros out of it. They can think of dozens of ways to wiggle through and around a law. They are as ingenious as those Massillon football coaches who are going to work out their football charges this spring in lacrosse games, because spring football is prohibited.

For every time they might get caught in a violation, they estimate there would be 50 times an easily -corrupted law - enforcement department would wink at their wrong-doing.

There is only one way to have a fighting chance to keep lotteries under control in Ohio. That is to keep them on the outlaw list, like slot machines.

Dramatic Entrance

The main suspense in the Senate committee's questioning of Teamster union officials never was the long-awaited appearance of Dave Beck, the union's president.

It had been taken for granted that President Beck sooner or later would run out of reasons for delaying his entrance.

But it had become a point of sharp curiosity about when and how James R. Hoffa, generally believed to be a more powerful Teamster official than Beck, himself, would make his bow to the public.

That curiosity has been relieved. Mr. Hoffa has made the most dramatic entrance possible —as the defendant against an FBI charge that he tried to bribe a lawyer working for the Senate committee which eventually would have him before it as a witness.

Clearly, this is not the way Mr. Hoffa would have chosen to come on the scene. He would have preferred to make a quiet entrance as one more witness in a long parade before the Senate committee, where he could have played the role of a run-of-mine union official.

One False Step Fatal

By David Lawrence

Hammarskjold Can Wreck Middle East Progress

All the good the United Nations has done by interposing its mediating influence in the Middle East can be wiped out if the administrative responsibilities of the secretary general, Dag Hammarskjold, are bungled.

Lawrence

The U.N. itself is a deliberative forum. It is not a supergovernment. It has no mechanism of its own for enforcing peace except as it may order a military mission or a peace commission, empowered with certain instructions, to take a specific action.

The secretary general has been given no instructions to go beyond the resolutions passed by the General Assembly.

Yet Mr. Hammarskjold has entered into an agreement with Egyptian President Nasser which upsets the whole mediation process of the U.N. itself.

There was no instruction to the secretary general to agree to allow the Egyptian government to send in a civilian or anyone else at this delicate moment to take care of civilian matters in the Gaza Strip.

The general assumption was that the difficult problem of bringing peace within the Gaza Strip would be handled cautiously, slowly, gradually and with due regard to the emotional reactions that could come from both Egypt and Israel if a hasty move were made.

But at the same time that Ralph Bunche, an assistant to the secretary general, was agreeing with Nasser that he could send a civilian governor, an Egyptian, into the Gaza Strip, an act of war had just been committed against Israel through the cutting off of all rail and telegraph communications between the Gaza Strip and Israeli territory.

THE MOMENT this happened, it became incumbent upon the U.N. secretary general to stop all further moves and maintain the military units of the United Nations emergency force in complete control, with disinterested civilians taking charge until peace and tranquility could be restored.

First reports said "unidentified" bands did the sabotage. This is the same camouflage which was used when the Suez Canal itself was blocked by "unidentified" Egyptians.

But the Communists, who are trying to make more trouble in the Middle East, could easily have been behind both these moves.

Thus Moscow radio was quick to denounce the U.N. force for firing at the mob which was threatening it in the Gaza Strip and since the Soviets and the Red Chinese both use the device of "volunteers," it is plausible to suppose that there is something of the same kind astir in the Middle East.

The reports that regularly come out of Cairo through the press and radio seem to have Communist inspiration and differ considerably from what the Egyptian government actually says in its communications to the American government and to U.N. officials.

NOW, EGYPT did occupy the Gaza Strip before the events of last summer and under the terms of the 1949 armistice between Israel and Egypt, the right to occupy the Gaza Strip is technically vested in the Cairo government.

But, knowing this, the U.N. secretary general's staff might better have waited for a plan to be drawn up that would prevent the outbreaks that have occurred.

Certainly when the rail and telegraph communications with Israel were cut, it indicated clearly that this was no time to be handing over civil administration to the Egyptian government and that it was much more desirable to set up a commission of civilians from neutral nations before arranging for the final transfer of authority or settlement of the issues involved.

Israel's chief concern has not been to occupy the Gaza Strip at all but to insure conditions which would prevent the Gaza territory from being used as a base for raiding operations hostile to Israel.

THE CUTTING of rail and telegraph communications was such an act, and it is necessary now for the U.N. to discover who was responsible for this sabotage

The only way to prevent more steps of this kind is to suspend any further arrangements with the Egyptian government for the reoccupation of the Gaza Strip until a constructive plan has been set up that gives some assurance of being obeyed on all sides, particularly by those "unidentified" bands roving into Israeli territory from Egypt and the Gaza Strip.

The United States government has pledged itself to see to it that the resolutions of the United Nations are carried out.

These call for protection for Israeli ships in the Gulf of Aqaba, unmolested passage of Israeli ships through the Suez Canal and safeguards against a recurrence of the raids that have been carried on by Egyptians against Israeli territory from the Gaza Strip.

-:-

THE UNITED STATES can insist that the U.N. take proper action but if the secretary general of the U.N. considers it his duty to appease Nasser and turn over the Gaza Strip to the Egyptians without regard to the acts of violence already committed or that may be set into motion in the future, many Americans will begin to lose confidence in the efficacy of the U.N. to bring peace in the Middle East.

The world may then find itself back again to a rule of force instead of reason.

The U.N. secretary general, who has a tough job on his hands, will not make things easier by ignoring the acts of sabotage already committed by "unidentified" Egyptians.

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

The Gabor women with their endless marrying fascinate me, but not half so much as the men they marry. I do not understand that kind of male psychology.

Why doesn't someone design a pliable plastic cuff link that will not gouge a hole in the underside of the forearm when a desk-worker wears French cuffs?

Some men build bridges to get that wonderful feeling of accomplishment. I can get the same feeling by fixing an automatic choke on a jalopy that will not start on a cold morning. And nothing but a bent screwdriver and trial and error to work with.

Some of the best-looking dresses are made from a kind of coarse-weave material popular with women this winter.

John N. Garner, the Texas politico who went home 16 years ago and stayed there, is still alive and opinionated. His greatest contribution to the first New Deal was to ask FDR one time why he kept running the cattle instead of letting them fatten up. When he found out, he left Washington for good.

I am a pushover for articles made of aluminum, especially if artistically designed, because they have an airy grace above that of things made with other metals.

It did not surprise me when Beatrice Lillie was more pitied than censured for her inability to save the latest warm-over of "Ziegfeld Follies" singlehanded. Miss Lillie can keep me in stitches for five minutes, no longer.

As far as I am concerned, the bloom is off the quiz shows. So there are people in this country with photographic memories and absolute recall, so what am I supposed to do about it. Cut my throat in shame?

The most lucid articles I ever have read about education is by U. S. Navy genius Hyman Rickover in last week's Post. I stood up and cheered in an empty living room when he proposed that instruction in how to think be set apart from instruction in how to play and earn a living.

The point never is going to be proved, but I feel sure if I read everything put on my desk by other desk-workers trying to keep their desks cleaned off it would require 24 hours a day without blinking.

If I were looking for a top-flight ace to head up a police force, I would hire that Dan Matthews on TV, who always goes straight to the heart of every problem, has eyes in the back of his head and gets about with the grace of a panther in spite of a figger like Gleason's.

It was my hunch the wolves would nibble at Dwight Eisenhower as soon as they had him trussed up under the no-third-term amendment, and My! What sharp teeth they and the jackals do have.

I wish there would be a comeback of vests because there never has been anything like them for storing away paper clips, erasers, pencils, nail clippers, matches, memos and toothpicks.

Hardly the Whole Answer

Restraint Is Ike's Hallmark

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON — After 104 presidential news conferences, President Eisenhower, who was awkward and stumbling in his early meetings with the press, has developed ease, speed and sureness.

He's still long-winded. He still manages to scramble his sentences at times. He still goes in for pious platitudes and ringing generalities that come close to banality.

But in the perilous quicksands of these conferences he has done an excellent job of staying clear of careless or impulsive answers that would embarrass him or the government or cause needless trouble.

The one quality which has shone through all his conferences is restraint in talking of people, problems or events. This restraint may turn out to have been his greatest contribution to the presidency and history.

THESE CONFERENCES have given him a priceless chance to create in the minds of the people an impression of him as a reasonable, patient, decent man of good will. And, judging from his great popularity, he has succeeded

Through all his conferences he has so consistently followed three policies that they look less like a state of mind than the result of deliberate decisions made before he ever held his first White House news conference Feb. 17, 1953.

These three policies are: he almost never says "no comment" to a question; he has carefully refrained from personal attacks on others; and he never acts like a boss.

Presidents Roosevelt and Truman used the "no comment" device to brush aside what they wouldn't or couldn't answer. Not Eisenhower. He persists in giving answers even when his only answer is that he has none.

OFTEN, EVEN when he gets wound up, his answers aren't really answers. Many times, because of this rambling which often gives the appearance of avoiding a direct answer, he'd be just as enlightening by saying "no comment."

By steering clear of personal attacks on others Eisenhower has given his foes and critics a minimum excuse for attacking him. This has the added effect of saving the presidency from mudslinging.

The results he gets from following this course — meaning his amazing continued popularity — would indicate he's a far better politician, although not necessarily a better President, than Truman.

HE HAS BEEN President through treacherous times abroad and a period of national sickness over communism at home. A news conference is full of jeopardy for a President who gets overheated and shoots from the hip.

Never has Eisenhower slipped into using an inflammatory, defiant, domineering or careless word that could cause a crisis abroad or a tempest at home. This is a tribute to his restraint and his high sense of responsibility.

It was particularly useful right after he became President when the country was sick in its division over the menace, or alleged menace, of communism at home. He led the country out of that morass by patience and reasonableness.

—:—

THERE ARE THOSE who criticize him for not having taken an open stand against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), then the No. 1 Red-hunter. But his admirers can point out that McCarthy and McCarthyism have faded into the background.

At his conferences his very restraint gives him the appearance of a man who believes that if people are allowed to cool off they will, and that time is a marvelous healer of open wounds.

But coupled with this is the question of his leadership. He was told at his Nov. 15, 1956, conference that he was being criticized for lack of leadership.

It was then he plainly revealed his philosophy of running the government and his concept of leadership by saying: "I am not the desk-pounding type . . . I would rather persuade a man to go along."

Dear Algernon

By Frank Tripp

A somewhat casual salesman acquaintance asked me to write him a "Dear Algernon" letter. To put in "his wife's" scrapbook—oh yeah! "Dear Mr." or "Dear Sir" wouldn't do in his catalogue of intimates, which he blames on his wife.

Algernon is not his name and I'll not tell it; neither is his wife's name Ethel. I'll betcha know some Algernons, too.

I never got real easy about addressing other than old and close acquaintances by their first names in letters—not even in the "kiss me" clubs where they promote it.

Seems all right orally, though, to call Jim Farley "Jim" or the President "Ike." Maybe somebody calls John Foster Dulles "Foss" —hope so; he's been called plenty else.

So when I got Algernon's request. I sat down and laughed my head off. I could see Algy displaying his prized letter, all puffed up like a pouter pigeon, and saying, "Here's one I got from Bill Hearst when I was with the Hearst outfit."

—:—

THEN I GOT sore. Likely my "Dear Algy" letter would land way back in the book and never be reached by the captive lookers. What was I sore about? I wasn't going to write any such letter. But I got real cute and did I wrote:

"Dear Algy:—Pansy dropped in yesterday with bad news. You remember Pansy, the redhead that you took out the night of the company party. Seems she's going to shake you down; wanted to know your address, said she knew we were cronies, I'd do most anything for you, pal, but keep me out of this mess.

"This Pansy character was only with us two weeks before we got wise to her. Now she's going to milk you for the dress that you rumed over in the Buttonwoods. You blasted idiot! Give my best to Ethel and the kids.

Your old buddy,
"Frank"

NOW, IF A guy wants to prove intimacy that can't be debated, I thought, I'd accommodated him. Instead, I walked right into a trap. Next day Algy phoned me:

"Hi Frank; that was a honey; it's Ethel's prize letter. You remember that she was with me at the company party (I hadn't remembered). We got a good laugh out of your joke—just like you—and you're getting a place right next to Adlai—Stevenson, that is. How about lunch some day next week?"

What do you do with a bird like that? Well, I've done it. When Algy reads this, bet he'll put his phony scrapbook in moth balls.

—:—

AFFECTION, as often as intimacy, is expressed in the use of first names. We all feel proud when an acquaintanceship grows naturally to that point.

In business it's different. Once it was bad taste to use other than "Dear Sir" or "Gentlemen." It was a concession when "Dear Mr." appeared.

Swimming Pool Solicitation

To The Star: I agree that Marion should have its own swimming pool and I am for it. I had intended to make a pledge but after receiving the literature through the mail, I have changed my mind.

I have three reasons for doing so. First, I am one of these independent types who does not care to be "suggested to" how much I should give. What would be easy for one family could be a hardship upon another. My mind had been made up before receiving the letter.

Second, a line on the pledge card reads as follows: "This pledge is a legal and binding obligation if the above conditions are met." I know that many pledges are made and never paid but if one has to be tied up so tightly legally, the incentive for giving is gone It is my sincere opinion that those who want this pool will not have to be forced to fulfill their pledge.

Third, the pledge I had in mind could not be met by May 1. I am certainly not going to make a pledge and then be embarrassed by legal action to force payment. I do not say that such action would be taken but the way is certainly clear to do so if the organization so desires. If I make a pledge, I'll pay it but the possibility of unforeseen circumstances arising makes me shy away from doing so under the conditions stated in the pledge card.

I sincerely believe the organization is going to lose pledges it might have received because of the manner of solicitation.

Sherman on Points

A high court has ruled that the International Boxing Club, stager of most of the big fights in America, is a trust, violating the Sherman Act.

The fight from here to the Supreme Court may be much more exciting than some of those inside the ring. (We hope the judges and the fight promotors will be required to wear different colored trunks so we can tell at all times who is ahead.)

-:-

A FEDERAL JUDGE finds that Jim ("Big Boy") Norris and Arthur ("Kayo") Wirtz have linked up sport and big business, obtained control of the cauliflower-ear industry, fixed prices on beak-busting and put the one-two punch almost in the class with Standard Oil back in the days of Judge Landis.

Watching recent fights we, too, have had difficulty determining whether we were observing a good boxing bout or a capitalistic operation, in which the lad in the purple trunks was a mere chattel and the one in the white trunks an element in interstate commerce.

Even some of the knockouts looked as if done with a "motion to dismiss."

-:-

WHEN THE CASE gets to the Supreme Court we trust the jurists and the principals will enter the "ring" wearing bathrobes to help in proper identification and that there will be TV coverage, announcement of the weights, etc.

The legal battle had better be good. It would be unfortunate if there were booing and pop bottles thrown.

-:-

SOME FIGHTERS seem pretty ignorant about the matter. We talked to a "pug," with the following result:

Q — What do you think of the ruling that a big boxing corporation is a trust?

A — Me, I trust nobody. I just get in there and sock.

Q — You don't understand. A court says there is a monopoly in restraint of trade in your business.

A — I got no trade. That's why I'm a boxer.

Q — Did you ever hear of the Sherman Law?

A — What weight does he fight at?

Q — The Sherman Act stops monopoly.

A—Yeah? What round did he stop him in?

Q — Look, aren't you interested in an important decision by a big judge?

A — Throw them judges out. A fighter gets a better break from a referee.

A TOURIST SPEAKS

"What was this talk away back home?...
I think my name was heard,
But traveling was, oh, such fun,
To heed it seemed absurd.
My union charged with many things —
Corruption, vice and such?
(When traveling in Europe one
Cannot be bothered much.)"

II

"Ah, Paris in the spring is sweet
The Riviera's warm,
A pleasant place is Switzerland
And Venice has such charm;
Yet Senators are ornery—
(Republican or Dem)—
They asked me to forsake all this
AND SIMPLY VISIT THEM!"

HOLLYWOOD LOST one of its really great artists in William Cameron Menzies who died recently...The son of a Connecticut plumber, he went to Hollywood over a quarter century ago and was for years its foremost art director, his work ranging from such classics as "Gone With The Wind" to Mike Todd's "Eighty Days."

A man was caught as a bad check artist when he walked into a delicatessen store and said he would like to order 14 steaks and 125 sandwiches ..Anybody who would do this would command so much attention he could hardly escape.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — After a five-hour debate, a weary New York jury found a minister and two other men guilty of desecrating the American flag in burning it in a "melting pot" along with other nations' flags. The purpose of the demonstration had been to show faith in "internationalism." Clemency for the men was urged and eight others who participated in the ceremonies were discharged.

President Wilson's condition was improved to the extent that he was allowed to sit up in his room. He was not permitted any visitors, however. Ambassador Girard who had just returned from Germany remained in Washington hoping for an opportunity to talk personally with the chief executive concerning the world situation.

20 YEARS AGO — As the midnight deadline for paying income tax grew nearer, the offices of collectors in Marion and throughout the county became crowded with last-minute taxpayers.

Possibility that the WPA grading project at the Marion airport, abandoned two months before, might be completed soon was seen by city officials when Harry L. Hopkins, national WPA administrator, announced in an Associated Press dispatch that an effort would be made to finish 12 such projects in Ohio by July 1.

The Ohio Associated Telephone Co. with headquarters in Marion filed an application with the state utilities commission requesting, among other things, an increase in rates for eight exchanges in this area. Inadequate income was cited as the reason for the application's filing.

10 YEARS AGO — The original deadline for the Marion County Red Cross campaign was moved ahead another week when a count of pledges and contributions showed the group was $7,000 short of its goal. A total of $19,545 had been raised against a needed $27,000.

Police Chief William F. Marks indicated that Marion was being entered in the national safety contest in which it had been winner for the last two years for cities in its population class. In the 1946 entry then being submitted, four fatal traffic accidents were listed for the year.

Pope Pius XII and Hindu leader Mohandas K. Gandhi were among the candidates for the 1947 Nobel peace prize, the Nobel Institute announced.

Cole Seeks Cut Of $125 Million In FHA Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole says he is asking Congress to trim his agency's budget request by about a third.

Announcing this Thursday, Cole indicated that other agencies, under President Eisenhower's prodding, may take a similar course.

Cole told a news conference Eisenhower "made the decision that this agency should re-examine (its budget) and try to bring it down."

Accordingly, Cole said he is suggesting that Congress cut 125 million dollars from the amount the housing agency has requested for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

"It is my judgment," he added, "that the administration will be sending up additional bills with requests for curtailed obligational authority."

Meantime, on Capitol Hill—where the outcry against Eisenhower's record peacetime budget of nearly 72 billion dollars is growing louder — 60 senators joined Thursday in sponsoring legislation aimed at giving Congress new powers to eliminate what was termed "unnecessary expenditures in the operation of the government."

Fulbright's Group To Look Into U.S. Policy in Mideast

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) said today a special Senate subcommittee will meet Monday to lay the groundwork for an inquiry into what he called "foreign policy mistakes" in the Middle East.

Fulbright is chairman of a six-member group authorized by the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees to set the stage for a study covering U.S. policies in the Middle East extending back to January, 1946.

At Republican insistence, the inquiry was broadened to cover events which took place during the Democratic administration of President Truman.

Fulbright has attributed strained relations with the British and French to "mistakes in judgment" by Secretary of State Dulles and the Eisenhower administration.

Woman Wins Damage Suit Against Her Father

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A Circuit Court jury awarded Marian Wurth $7,500 damages against her father for spinal injuries suffered four years ago when she was 19.

It was believed to be the first time in Missouri that damages were awarded a minor against a member of his immediate family. The verdict was returned Thursday.

John S. Wurth, a brewery foreman, was driving his daughter to work when the car skidded on ice and she was thrown out. Miss Wurth, a telephone operator, had sued for $25,000.

Milk Production Down

CLEVELAND (AP)—An unprecedented downward trend in production by northern Ohio milk producers is continuing, says Howard Eisaman, federal milk market administrator. For the first time in the history of the Cleveland market, February receipts were lower than those of January, Eisaman said Thursday.

Despite the monthly trend, shipments were up 1.3 per cent over a year ago.

Senate To Open Study On Amendments for Out-of-State Choices

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Senate will open its 11th work week Monday night with a vote on a constitutional amendment to take future out-of-state appointees off the hook.

The amendment is designed to avoid future embarrassments when a governor or some other Ohio appointing authority wishes to name an out-of-state person to a top Ohio post.

Recently Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill was forced to appoint Charles Noble, New Jersey Turnpike engineer, as his administrative assistant in charge of highway affairs. This was to get around the constitutional provision that both elected and appointed officials of the state must be qualified electors in Ohio.

Actually, Noble is Ohio's highway director, but he cannot assume the title until he has lived in Ohio one year.

Vincent Case Similar

Still more recently, Harold S. Vincent, head of the Milwaukee school system, withdrew as the State Board of Education's nominee for Ohio superintendent of public instruction because he is not an Ohio elector. Subsequently, E. E. Holt, head of the Springfield schools, became the state superintendent.

The constitutional amendment must be approved by a three-fifths vote of both houses in the Legislature. Then it will be subject to a majority vote at the polls. The amendment would not affect the case either of Noble or Vincent. It will simply prevent future situations of a like variety.

Only a few hours after the Legislature left Columbus Thursday for its customary long weekend, Gov. O'Neill told newsmen of his "unqualified" opposition to a bill by Sen. Lowell Fess (R-Greene) to increase the auto license and driver license fees for issuing deputy registrars.

Promises Veto

O'Neill said that if such a bill is passed "I will veto it."

The fee increases under the amended Fess bill would be from 25 to 40 cents for both auto and driver licenses.

O'Neill also toln newsmen that he is informed a proposed abandonment of the quarter-century-old stamp system in the collection of Ohio's 3 per cent sales tax might cost the state treasury money in the next two years.

The governor quoted Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers as saying the proposed change — which also includes abandonment of the sales tax stamp redemption feature, a major source of revenue to charitable groups—might mean the state's "take" of about 230 million dollars a year would be reduced in the years immediately ahead.

The sales tax is now prepaid through advance purchase of sales tax stamps by retailers. A shift to a post-paid tax based on an audit of a firm's accounts would create a lag of 25 to 30 million dollars in sales tax collections, he pointed out.

Audit Is Problem

But, Bowers told O'Neill, the audit of retailers' books to enforce the collection of the sales tax would be difficult, especially in view of the many exemptions now permitted by the tax law.

O'Neill's statement appeared to cast serious doubt on the bill's chances, even though legislative leaders expressed belief it could save the state as much as 11½ million dollars a year in stamp-printing, vendor and agency discounts and the redemption feature.

The House Thursday, before the weekend recess started, voted 118-0 to give blanket emergency vehicle classification to private ambulances. The measure now goes to the Senate.

Would Pay Taxes

The House also passed and sent to the Senate a bill to require the Wildlife Division chief to pay local school districts the school taxes on state-owned lands. The school debt rate existing at the time the state took title to the land will also be paid by the chief under the bill. Such payments would continue until outstanding school debts are paid.

The Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to maintain face value of all government bonds deposited by trust companies with the treasurer of state pursuant to state law, despite fluctuations in the bonds' values.

Detroit Child Kidnaped, Drowned by Baby Sitter

DETROIT (AP) — Three-year-old Patricia Tiernan, who was kidnaped from her home in Pontiac Thursday, was found drowned Thursday night in a bathtub at a small hotel in Detroit.

Police said they found the body after following directions given by a teen-age baby sitter who was picked up for loitering near the Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

Guard Sees Her Flee

State police in Jackson arrested Madeline Allred, 18, of Pontiac, after a prison guard reported he saw her run out of the prison lobby and hide under a car in the parking lot.

State troopers Roger Rivard and Donald Kirt said Miss Allred was undergoing routine questioning when suddenly she blurted out:

"But I did kill a baby down in Detroit today. I held her under water for two hours."

The troopers quoted her as saying, "I always had an urge to kill people." Then, they said, she gave the room number of a hotel in Detroit where Patricia's body could be found.

Radio Alert Heard

As police in Jackson questioned Miss Allred, they heard over the police radio that she was wanted as the baby sitter who had disappeared with Patricia from the home of the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Tiernan of Pontiac.

Miss Allred had been employed as a baby sitter for the past three weeks by the Tiernans. Police quoted her as saying she was released from a state mental hospital in July of last year.

Patricia and the baby sitter were reported missing by a neighbor who had entered the Tiernan apartment and found the Tiernans' 11-month-old baby alone. The Tiernans were away at work.

Police quoted Miss Allred as saying that after drowning Patricia she left Detroit for Jackson to visit a brother serving a term at the state prison for burglary.

Miss Allred was taken to the Jackson County Jail.

Senator Raps Pace of Nation In Atom Race

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A congressman and a member of the Atomic Energy Commission were in disagreement today over how fast America should go in building nuclear power plants.

Rep. Carl T. Durham (D-NC), chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, warned that England and Russia are "seriously" challenging U. S. world leadership in nuclear power and suggested the federal government spend more money to build more plants, and bigger ones, faster.

Denies U.S. Lags

But AEC Commissioner Harold S. Vance denied the United States was losing ground.

The two shared the platform Thursday night at a session of the 1957 nuclear congress sponsored by the National Industrial Conference Board.

"We are definitely ahead of the rest of the world in the technological development of atomic power," Vance said. "And I am confident that we will remain in this position."

Durham, besides appealing for more A-power plants, also urged the United States to increase its military weapons production and build the world's first atomic airplane as quickly as possible.

Using Meat Axe

He charged that "the Defense Department is again using the meat axe instead of the scalpel on the aircraft nuclear propulsion program" and thus delaying launching of an atomic-powered plane.

Vance admitted that "controversy has been going on in the halls of Congress" about America's take-it-slow attitude in nuclear power plant construction.

But he insisted there was no rush, that the United States had no need to build such plants so quickly, that it had time to set up research plants and small facilities to make sure it gets the best kind possible.

Television Station Operation Told in Talk to 20-30 Club

An inside look at the operations and organization of a television station was offered Marion 20-30 International Service Club members Thursday night by a former associate of the Crosley Broadcasting Corp. in Cincinnati.

The speaker was James K. Petersen of the Jay H. Maish Co., Marion advertising agency. He has served Crosley in various programming, special events and public relations capacities.

Richard L. Freese was initiated into the 20-30 club during a brief ceremony conducted by President Robert L. Rice. The new member is associated with the Marion County Bank.

Charles Clark, club project chairman, reported on plans for the annual Easter egg hunt for Marion area youngsters, to be conducted the afternoon of April 21 at Lincoln Park.

Offering a human interest background about television programs with which he has been associated, Mr. Petersen answered numerous inquiries from club members concerning this newest communication media.

He explained network affiliations and went into some detail about sponsorship and public interest activities, as well as the work required to get a local television show "on the air."

He was introduced by Robert Smith, program chairman. In attendance at the YMCA were 26 members and two guests, Richard and William Barnhart of the House of Design in Marion.

Y-Men's Group Hears County School Official

About 31 members were present at the regular dinner meeting of the Marion Y-Men's Club Thursday night in the YMCA. Guest speaker was Harry Alexander, assistant Marion county superintendent of schools, who talked and showed slide pictures of a recent trip to Greece and Egypt. Mr. Alexander announced that his fee for appearing on the program would be sent to Greece to purchase clothing for Greek school youngsters.

The club voted to sponsor two teams in the Industrial Golf League this summer and plans were announced for the group's annual Children's Night program March 28 in the YMCA.

Richard Smiley was a guest.

Ohio Gangster Shot Down in Buffalo Street

Murder of Mafrici Termed by Police as 'Underworld Affair'

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—A calm gunman named "Tony" was sought by police today for the murder of a Cleveland gangster who was shot down as he begged:

"Please, Tony, don't do it! Please, not that, Tony!"

Police called the slaying of Dominic Mafrici, 37, on a quiet, West Side street early Thursday "strictly an underworld affair."

They said Mafrici, who has a record stretching back to 1939, escaped from the county jail at Steubenville, Ohio, last year. He was being held on a charge of robbery.

Awakened by Cries

William Tiersselt, 32, told police that he was awakened by Mafrici's cries for mercy and that he went to his bedroom window.

"The other man just fired," he said. "He stood over the body and then slowly walked down the street."

Police said Mafrici had been hit at least three times but that more shots probably had been fired.

His body was identified by the FBI through fingerprints. His personal papers, jewelry and other possessions had been taken from his body.

Alarms Out

Police said they had alarms out for persons known to have associated with Mafrici.

Special Agent John Roche of the FBI said Mafrici was wanted on a federal warrant in Cincinnati for unlawful flight to avoid confinement on a charge of robbery.

He said Mafrici was arrested last July and held on a charge of armed robbery in the $10,000 holdup of a cafe in Steubenville, Ohio. He escaped from the county jail there in October.

Also arrested was David F. Tiburzio, 32, of Hubbard, Ohio. Roche said Tiburzio jumped bail and forfeited $50,000 while awaiting trial on the same charge.

Police said Mafrici had been sentenced several times to the Ohio Reformatory on various charges, including robbery. He also served time in the Ohio Penitentiary, from which he was released on parole in 1955.

Suit Filed in Local Court for $25,125

A damage suit for $25,125 was filed in Common Pleas Court Thursday by Henrietta Wallace of 706 Hermann St., against William Hough, near Marion.

The suit, according to the plaintiff's petition, is the result of an auto accident about 7:30 p.m. Feb. 25, 1956. The plaintiff claims she was northbound on N. Main St. at the time and stopped for a red light at the intersection of N. Main and Fairview Sts. While stopped a car allegedly driven by the defendant crashed into the rear of the plaintiff's auto.

The plaintiff says she suffered injuries as a result of the accident that required her hospitalization and from which she still suffers and claims the mishap was due to the negligence of the defendant.

Club Hears Discussion On Color Photographs

A discussion on making color prints was presented by Richard Boyd when the Marion Photo Club met Thursday night at the residence of William R. Diem at 730 Blaine Ave.

He presented examples of various colored photographs and discussed the methods used in making them. Photographs taken by members at the February meeting in the YMCA were displayed.

The club decided that members with slide programs available for showing will list their names and programs with the secretary, Billy M. Stevens, so that calls for programs from organizations in the area can be answered.

Harold Henry of 238 Merchant Ave. was enrolled as a new member. Guests were Durward Myers, Roy Kauffman and Robert F. Lowery.

Convicted of Robbery

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—A tribunal of three judges Thursday convicted Wilford Cato, 45, and his brother, Floyd, 34, on charges of assault to rob and shooting to wound in connection with an attempted supermarket holdup here Jan. 24.

The two were sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary for consecutive terms of 1 to 20 and 1 to 15 years each.

Council Meeting

part of the duties Mr. Bigelow said would be assigned to the three new employes. Mr. Bigelow had said that in addition to serving as resident engineer and inspectors on forthcoming construction projects, the new employes would be used to locate and direct the correction of illegal taps and cross-connections.

—:—

MR. HALDEMAN said that because the financial adviser's letter indicated there would be no excess funds in the sewer service charge collections, this no longer would be possible.

Neither Mr. Bigelow nor the mayor was present for the special council session last night

The qualifications for the sanitary engineer as adopted at last night's meeting are:

"A. He shall be a registered civil engineer in the State of Ohio.

"B. He shall be qualified to act as a project engineer on sanitary and storm water projects, which qualification shall include the following:

"(1) He must have had some previous supervisory experience in both tunnel and open cut sewer construction.

"(2) He shall have had previous experience in the setting of all lines and grades in open cut and tunnel sewer construction.

"(3) He shall have had experience in preparing or assisting in making computations for the rendering of estimates for the amount of work and materials used for sewer construction projects.

"C. He must be capable of instituting and supervising a program of correcting any illegal sewer taps and cross-connections.

"D. He shall be experienced and qualified to make surveys, to design plans and prepare specifications, plans, profiles and cost estimates and supervise construction for storm and sanitary sewer projects for the city when authorized by lawful authority."

—:—

IN ADOPTING the amendment to the original ordinance, council reviewed the qualifications it proposed point by point.

One change affected Section 5 which listed the qualifications for the inspectors. First Ward Councilman Harold Smith made a motion that the section be stricken from the ordinance "because I don't believe you can employ men at $15 a day who can meet the qualifications." (The rate was set up in the original ordinance for the inspectors).

This motion was adopted by unanimous voice vote, but was amended and re-inserted in the legislation by another unanimous voice vote.

As amended the qualifications state only 'That the sewer inspectors provided for . . . shall have some previous sewer construction experience and shall have some previous experience in preparing and maintaining or assisting in preparing and maintaining proper notes for construction reports and records." Dropped from the amended section was the clause (following the words "sewer construction experience") "in both open cut and tunnel construction . . ."

Discussing the qualifications for the inspectors, Councilman-at-large Richard Lister said he believed that the inspectors could be trained by the sanitary engineer.

Asked to comment on these qualifications, City Engineer John V. Ruth said he could find nothing wrong with them.

MR. HALDEMAN asked him if he thought it was possible to employ a man for $15 a day who has had some previous sewer construction experience and is able to keep the notes called for. Mr. Ruth said the salary might be a little low but that it might be possible to employ such a man. In answer to another question by Mr. Haldeman, Mr. Ruth said he felt the safety-service director would be fortunate if he found men for the positions at the $15 rate. "But, I'm not saying he can't get them," Mr. Ruth added.

He also said good inspectors should be provided because poor ones could ruin the whole construction project In answer to a question from Mr. Smith, he said any alert, mechanically minded man with some experience could become a good inspector under the direction of a qualified sanitary engineer.

Mr Lister said that he didn't propose to pick the man for the job that he felt this was the safety-service director's responsibility. 'But I do feel that council has the right and duty to set up minimum qualifications for the man on the job," he said.

City Solicitor Riley Hall told council that the ordinance even as amended did not give it any control over the selection of the individual for the position nor any authority to confirm the appointment. But he added that council could set up minimum specifications for any position that requires a particular techinical ability.

Mr. Haldeman asked Mr. Ruth if he thought he or his assistant city engineer, Thomas Taylor, could qualify for the sanitary engineer under the qualifications proposed. Mr. Ruth answered in the affirmative

—.—

THERE WAS SOME discussion also on whether or not Mr Bigelow actually wanted to employ a sanitary engineer or a project engineer.

Mr. Haldeman said that as he understood it, a project engineer would not need to meet the same high qualifications of a sanitary engineer.

He further stated that he had reason to believe that the qualifications contained in the amended ordinance might put the position out of reach of the man Mr. Bigelow had picked for the job. But he said if the qualifications were for a project engineer, the man likely could meet them.

Council finally decided if the ordinance as amended was not as Mr. Bigelow wanted it, he should come before council and tell exactly "what he does want."

In the vote to adopt the amendment, Mr. Rinehart, after voting against it, said, "I brought this all up Monday night and if all of you had been listening, this meeting tonight would not have been necessary."

Mr. Courtright said he had not heard Mr. Rinehart's suggestion Monday night and added, "I've learned one thing in the last few days—we are moving too fast on these sewers, we are going to have to slow down and carefully consider each additional step."

Early Deposit Of Mail Helps Speed Delivery

Postmaster Homer D. Cole said today that mailers of Marion can often speed delivery of their mail as much as a full day by depositing it earlier in the day.

Explaining that many local mailers, particularly businessmen, needlessly hold their daily mail until the end of the day and then deposit it in the post office or mail box, Postmaster Cole said these advantages would be realized, if these patrons would mail earlier and more often in the day:

1. The mail that is deposited earlier will frequently make same day transportation connections, whereas, if it is deposited late in the day, it may sometimes have to wait until the next morning before it goes out.

2. The chances of human error in handling the mail earlier in the day when the post office is not deluged with work are reduced.

3. Deposit of mail earlier in the day will benefit the local post office and postal employes, enabling them to spread out their work over a longer period of time and helping to reduce jam-ups and emergencies that may delay local deliveries and outgoing dispatches of mail in some instances.

Postmaster Cole also advised mailers to make use of labels marking mail for local or out-of-town delivery. The labels, which are placed on bundles of mail, are available at the post office.

West Virginia State Hospital Escapee Held

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Authorities today are holding for the FBI a fugitive from a West Virginia hospital who tried swimming across the Ohio River to escape law officers.

Carl Bassnett, 35, Wheeling, W. Va., escaped from Weston State Hospital about four weeks ago, officers said. He was sent there after he was accused of threatening to kill Sally Caroll, also of Wheeling.

Bassnett ran to the river and plunged in Thursday after he walked into a roadblock set up by the Washington County sheriff.

Bassnett started swimming to the opposite shore but turned back when a deputy sheriff fired three warning shots, Sheriff Dean Ellis said.

Ellis said the FBI will serve a federal warrant on Bassnett. The FBI did not reveal what charges it would file against Bassnett, Ellis said.

Needle Is Found, Chicago Red Cross Fund Gets $2,000

CHICAGO (AP) — A woman found a needle hidden in a haystack on Michigan Blvd. Thursday and her find enriched the Red Cross fund drive by $2,000.

Mrs. Charles Calderini, a Red Cross volunteer worker, found the needle 20 minutes after tossing aside her pitchfork and searching through 20 bales of hay with her hands. Six other volunteer workers had failed.

The haystack which adorned the center of the Congress St. Plaza figures in a publicity stunt financed by a philanthropist, Wilbur X. Derus. He offered the drive $2,000 if the needle could be found in seven hours.

Mrs. Calderini found the needle eight minutes past the deadline but Derus didn't quibble. He wrote out the $2,000 check. He got the needle.

Home Building Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Private home construction slumped in Febuary to the lowest rate since 1949, the Labor Department reported today.

Seventeen per cent fewer new houses and apartments were started last month than in February of last year.

The department said 65,000 dwellings were begun, of which 62,500 were privately financed and 2,500 were public housing units.

William Walters Addresses Local Personnel Group

A talk on "Human Relations" was presented to members of the Personnel Club of the Marion Chamber of Commerce at its regular meeting in Hotel Harding Wednesday.

The speaker was William Walters, superintendent at the Fairfield Engineering Co. He said that it is particularly fitting at this time of year to note that the "oldest book in existence on human relations is the Bible." He went on to explain that all the rules of human relations are based on the various texts of the Bible.

In other business the club received a report that several local plants are hiring personnel. There also are some seasonal lay-offs taking place, but the hirings are more than balancing the lay-offs, so that there still is a labor shortage, it was noted. The shortage exists in both skilled and semi-skilled labor.

Stanley Williams, vice chairman of the club, presided in the absence of the chairman, William Stout. Next meeting of the club will be April 10.

Lack of Funds Is Bar to Radio Net

UPPER SANDUSKY—The proposed county-wide two-way radio network is progressing well in most areas but has been temporarily slowed by a lack of funds in two locations according to Wyandot County Sheriff V. Dean McAllister.

Antrim and Eden townships and the village of Nevada will be required to pay $607.75 for units to be placed in the Nevada fire truck and marshal's car and for a base station at the new fire department building.

Carey will be required to pay $308 88 for its equipment.

Village and township treasuries in the two areas presently do not have funds available to pay the costs. The Nevada quota has been partially paid by contributions from private citizens.

Though intended for Civil Defense purposes the radio equipment may be used by the villages and townships as they see fit. It will be available for use in any emergency, such as a fire.

also, that the Society wrote more new insurance in 1956 than in any other year of its history.
Very plainly, however, the real story of Equitable's progress lies in all the services rendered by the Society, in the benefits received by policyowners and beneficiaries, and in the contribution made to the expanding economy of our country.
If record sales and increased benefits mean anything, they mean that all of us—you and Mike and the millions of other Equitable policyowners—are now enjoying the highest standard of living ever achieved in the history of this nation. To maintain that standard, and add to it, is our goal.
Here is our report on how Mike and The Equitable—Partners in Progress—are working together toward that goal.

Beck's System

By Victor Riesel

Now we're being told that it is "in bad taste" to criticize Dave Beck, until recently a misplaced person. We're being told this by a big genial fellow just back from darkest Africa — a fellow by the name of Bill Schnitzler, ex-baker.

VICTOR RIESEL

Good old Bill doesn't seem to like the Senate racket busting committee. That might not make too much difference in our cultural history but for the fact that Bill Schnitzler is second-in-command of the AFL-CIO. He is secretary-treasurer and just back from Casablanca and the Gold Coast.

Maybe he doesn't know what's been happening but the other day here in Chicago he unleashed one from the floor at Jim Carey who has been on the bustings berating Mr. Beck.

Mr. Cary's attacks were "in bad taste" said the second highest officer in the AFL-CIO. At the same time Mr. Schnitzler blasted the Senate probe. We don't know why.

-:-

MR. SCHNITZLER seems to have talked too soon. The New York probe is coming up and it will be just as messy as Portland —maybe more so.

To show you just how messy, I report to you the action of something called the Allied Industrial Workers nee the United Auto Workers-AFL, which is not to be confused with Walter Reuther's former CIO outfit.

The Allied Industrial Worker's eastern division was once run by Johnny Dio, who needs no other vitriolic description here. At the Miami Beach midwinter session of the AFL-CIO high command, the climate was right and the high council gave this 75,000-member union exactly 90 days to clean up or be suspended — and finally expelled.

The AIW national office, whimsically located in Hollywood, parted company with its Secretary Treasurer Anthony Doria, Dio's bon ami and then tried to clean up its New York outfits. It suspended eastern local charters. It fined 20 representatives.

Then the AIW simply quit the New York area. Its president said the district was hopeless and "is still a mess."

-:-

THIS MESS is what originally provoked the Senate hearings, away back. And the Senate investigating roster reveals there are 20 more messes which won't exactly make Portland vice seem like the Black Hole of Calcutta.

Some of these AIW locals had tie-ins with some teamsters. Others had dual citizenship inside labor because they had charters in the Teamsters Union, too. It was Dave Beck who issued those charters.

The records will show that some of Jim Carey's men have been beaten and pushed around by men tied in with those unions the Allied Industrial Workers have just junked — and, brother, when a national union junks some of its locals, that's news.

So Jim Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers and vice president of the AFL-CIO, just pushed back by insulting Beck. Now comes the second highest AFL-CIO official applying the slats to Jim.

-:-

MR. CAREY CAN'T FATHOM all this. He points to the AFL-CIO charter and to a resolution passed by labor's merger convention in December 1955.

This makes it mandatory for all officers to go after those who are hurting labor's reputation. To wit:

"The American labor movement has ever been quick in its denunciation of public officials who betray their trust," the '55 convention said.

"We have been equally critical of businessmen who have used corrupt methods and bribery to gain their selfish acquisitive ends. We must be equally quick to recognize and condemn those instances of racketeering, corruption and disregard for ethical standards when they occur inside our labor movement.

"The vast majority of labor union officials accept their responsibility and trust.

"Yet the reputations of the vast majority are imperiled by the dishonest, corrupt, unethical practices of the few who betray their trust and who look upon the trade union movement not as a brotherhood to serve the general welfare but as a means to advance their own selfish purposes or to forward the aims of groups or organizations who would destroy our democratic institutions."

This is the law of labor. Officially adopted. It is not a matter of taste. It is a matter of duty, says Carey.

This is the moment for a moment with Aristotle on logic and morality — but whose union business agent is he anyway?

Unusual Ambition

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Bob Mitchum has an unusual ambition for an actor.

He doesn't want to play Hamlet. He doesn't yearn to be a director or a producer. He doesn't pine to have the world of television at his feet. He simply wants to be the laziest man on earth — if you take what he says seriously, which might be a mistake.

HAL BOYLE

"I just hang around the house until I go broke," he said, "and then I go to work.

"That's a dismal thought so early in the morning. (It was 11:30 a. m.) Life always looks better in the cool of the evening.

"The role I'd really like to play is a tax-exempt one in which I merely phoned the studio — and didn't have to show up on the set at all."

—:—

ROBUST ROBERT is resting up after completing a Twentieth Century-Fox film, "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison," in which he plays a Marine stranded behind Japanese lines with a nun (Deborah Kerr).

Despite his pretense of laziness, Mitchum has played in 111 pictures in 15 years, including 8 Hopalong Cassidy epics.

Before that he had been an amateur hobo, a professional fighter, a writer, and an aircraft factory worker. He said the aircraft job left him with an allergy to metal, and the Hopalong Cassidy films an allergy to horses.

"The only way they can get me back on a horse now is at gun point," he said.

Mitchum says this is why he went into the movies:

—:—

"I DON'T LIKE people telling me, 'do this or else.' This is the only business I've found where you can get by with my attitude. You can remain an individual in the movies — but the price sometimes seems high."

The neurotic anxieties of a worrying world so far haven't taken hold of Mitchum, who remains as relaxed as an elephant in a field of hay.

"I'm probably afraid of everything," he said, "but so far I haven't found time to sit down and discover it. The only thing I'm afraid of is" — he yawned—"that I'm not getting enough sleep.

But no one can say the guy isn't responsible in his own way. He's had the same wife for nearly 17 years. He's buying annuities for his three children.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued to lose ground early this afternoon but a few issues moved to the upside.

Aside from these, the general range of losses went from fractions to around a point with coppers exceeding this.

News that Phelps Dodge, the country's second biggest copper producer, is cutting production further was depressing to stocks of the industry.

Turnover on the market was at a dawdling pace.

Budget cuts announced by the administration and a continued feeling that the Middle East situation was not yet resolved were dampening factors, brokers said. In addition, the usual reluctance of traders to extend positions prior to a weekend was noted.

Kennecott Copper dropped around two and Phelps Dodge more than a point. International Nickel fell around a point.

Signs of a possible reversal of trend were seen in the motors division as Chrysler and Ford were both fractionally higher. Allied Chemical improved beyond a point.

U.S. Steel, American Telephone, and Standard Oil (New Jersey), were fractionally lower.

Goodyear was off about a point.

U. S. government bonds declined.

Broken Main in Galion Takes 12 Hours To Fix

GALION—A 12-inch water main broke on South St. here about 5:30 Thursday afternoon and six workmen labored until 5:30 this morning before completing repairs on the break.

The break occurred in front of the Galion Iron Works and Manufacturing Co. The water department turned down pressure throughout the city, cut an eight-foot square hole in the pavement and used three pumps to relieve the situation. Traffic on South St. was re-routed around the danger spot.

The pavement on the street bulged slightly from the break and water seeped through to the street level.

Celebrations Held

Girl Scout Organization Notes 45th Anniversary

(Picture on Page One)

The 45th anniversary of the founding of the Girl Scout movement is being observed locally and throughout the area this week. More than 1,000 city scouts and another 1,500 from the Marion-Morrow area are participating in special observance.

Neighborhood birthday parties in honor of Juliette Low are being held by troops throughout the area. Many of the groups attended church services Sunday to mark the beginning of the weeklong observance.

Climaxing the special week's activities is the annual cookie sale which begins today. Proceeds of this sale will go to the troops participating and also to the Camp Young Improvement Fund.

—:—

THE NEIGHBORHOOD parties have featured contributions by each scout of a penny for each year of her life, being given to the Juliette Low Fund for International Camping.

Girl Scouts throughout the world contribute to this fund which supports the International Girl Scout Chalet in the Swiss Alps. Here girls from all countries meet to further common ideals and interests.

The fund also helps to pay the expenses of Senior Girl Scouts from the United States, who are delegates to international encampments at the Chalet.

Among the larger local neighborhood parties were those held at the Mark St., Oakland, Pearl and George Washington Schools. The girls' gifts to the fund were presented in colorful ceremonies and in most cases films were shown.

Richwood troops were hosts to Prospect and Green Camp Girl Scouts and Brownies at the Richwood School. Those present at the party were shown colored slides of the 1956 National Girl Scout Roundup by Pat Hartle, a senior scout from Prospect, Mrs. Dorothy Berry was mistress of ceremonies. Refreshments were served by troop committee members.

Girls from the Mark St., N. Main, Harding, Taft and St. Mary Schools gathered at Mark St. School for the party of that area group. Contributions for the International Fund, wrapped as birthday gifts, were presented by each troop. Eight troops presented skits on the Girl Scout Laws. A Dutch dance was done by Troop 5. Poems in pantomime were given by Troops 5 and 27. Mistress of ceremonies was Miss Beverly Price.

—:—

TROOPS PRESENT at the Vernon observance gave a skit portraying the areas of interest in scouting for the parents and teachers who were guests. Mrs. R. E. VandeWater acted as mistress of ceremonies, while Mrs. Evelyn Sobditch led in group singing.

A large world globe on which flags of different countries were placed, contained the money to be given to the fund.

A skit concerning customs and folk lore of different countries was a highlight of the Oakland meeting. Miss Mary Kay Stone, executive director of the scout council, showed the film, "Our Chalet." Contributions were placed in boxes then attached by ribbons to various countries located on a lighted globe.

Girl Scout Days of the Week was the theme of the George Washington neighborhood party. The theme was carried out through song, dance, poem and pantomime. Gifts were dropped in a large calendar bank with the month of March and the week of March 12 featured on the front.

Miss Hartle showed her slides to the group who met at Pearl St. School. Acting as mistress of ceremonies was Mrs. Norman Fogt. Miss Stone showed the film "Our Chalet" also. Troops presented skits or songs.

Gifts were placed in boxes and put on a table around a large globe of the world. Background for this display was a semi-circle of flags made by the troops, each one representing a foreign country.

Grand Jury Will Meet May 6, Hear 13 Cases

The next sitting of the Marion County grand jury has been set for May 6 and 7, according to Common Pleas Court Judge Paul D. Smith. The report from the jury will be made May 10 with the date of arraignment set for May 13.

A total of 13 cases are on the docket for the May hearing as of now.

District Traffic Reports

Three county accidents were investigated Thursday by patrolmen of the local post. A slight injury was sustained in only one of these. Two minor mishaps were reported by Marion police.

A 14-year-old ward of the Marion County Child Welfare Board is being held at the detention home here awaiting hearing in juvenile court after he was involved in an accident on Route 529, about one mile southeast of Marion at 2:45 p.m.

Patrolmen said the youth, a resident of a foster home in Cardington, was driving a southbound car which struck a northbound vehicle driven by Ernest Herr Jr., 32, of 391 Olney Ave.

The accident reportedly occurred after the auto driven by the youth went out of control and ran off the right side of the road, then swerved across the pavement into the path of the Herr vehicle.

The youth fled the scene following the accident and later was picked up by Gene White, superintendent of the Marion County Children's Home.

Mr. White indicated that the youth had left school at noon with a Cardington boy of the same age whose father owned the car. The boys, with two girls, took the auto and had spent the afternoon pleasure riding in the Marion area and were en route back to Cardington at the time of the mishap.

Extensive damage was reported to the Herr auto while only moderate damage was done to the other car, patrolmen said. A 14-year-old Cardington youth who was a passenger in the car received a cut on the knee and bump on the head but was not treated, patrolmen indicated.

A Dayton man's car knocked down a mailbox on Route 23, about three miles south of Marion at 12:15 a.m. Thursday. The vehicle continued on without stopping at the scene of the mishap, patrolmen reported.

The driver, Robert F. Gudat, 38, later was apprehended in Marion and was cited to appear in Marion Municipal Court March 18, on a charge of failure to stop at the scene of an accident.

Extensive damage was done to the auto. The damaged mailbox was owned by Charles A. Bowen of near Marion. The mishap occurred when the auto ran off the road on the right side, then swerved back to the left to hit the mailbox, the report indicated.

The third accident occurred when an auto driven by George Yake, 20, of near Waldo, went off the right side of Route 95, five miles west of Marion at 5 p.m. after the wheel lugs broke off on the right rear wheel of the vehi-

Patrolmen said the damage to the eastbound vehicle was confined to the wheel.

Automobile, School Bus Collide Near Marengo

A car and a school bus collided in the single Morrow County accident investigated by patrolmen of the Marion post Thursday.

The non-injury mishap occurred on Route 61, three miles southwest of Marengo at 4:10 p.m. when an auto driven by George Hoffman, 64, of Shaker Heights, struck the left rear of the school bus, doing minor damage to both vehicles.

Patrolmen said the southbound Hoffman auto skidded out of control when attempting to stop opposite the northbound bus driven by Mary Alice McCarty, 42, of Marengo.

Hoffman was cited to appear before Mayor Don Healea of Cardington on a charge of driving left of center.

Named to the board of directors were Mrs. James E. Frew, Miss Madge Cooper and Mrs. Albert H. Snaufer.

Mitchell Airs Views on Right To Work Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell says he doubts the wisdom of state "right to work" laws. But he says he won't ask Congress to deny the states the power to enact them.

Mitchell, speaking Thursday at a labor relations conference sponsored by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, said the Eisenhower administration will not request repeal of a section of the Taft-Hartley Act that authorizes the states to pass "righ to work" laws.

Seventeen states already have such laws, which ban compulsory union membership. Indiana will become the 18th when a measure passed by its Legislature becomes law sometime late this summer or early fall.

Mitchell told the businessmen-delegates he "never quarreled" with the right of the states to enact such laws, but that "what I have done is to question the wisdom of the states in so doing."

The labor secretary said administration proposals for amending the Taft-Hartley law will be sent to Capitol Hill in the next few weeks.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

The Market Keeps Changing

Strange things, as Red Buttons used to say, are happening. NBC announced that it is dropping its hour - long drama at 9 p.m. Sundays, which started out as Philco Playhouse, is now sponsored by Alcoa and Goodyear, has been on the air for eight long years, and has always been one of my favorite programs.

JOHN CROSBY

In its place will go an hour-long music and variety show, presided over by Dinah Shore (every other week). What does this mean? Well, Miss Shore has been one of the most successful properties of the year, and Mr. Perry Como is now leading the ARB rating. Singers and professors from Columbia are hot stuff on TV this day. Tomorrow, who knows?

-:-

MEANWHILE, Jackie Gleason and Sid Caesar are in serious trouble if you believe ratings and, unfortunately, many people do. Of course, both comics have been on the air quite a while now. The format, the material, and, I'm afraid, the personalities have limits.

The public can absorb so much and then it gets tired. And one of the things it seems to have got tired of is comedians. I don't mean comedy — I doubt that it will ever get tired of that — but I mean the stand-up comedian who stands before a curtain, tells jokes and gets away with it.

Milton Berle has faded into the twilight. The signs indicate that Gleason and Caesar are having their problems. Red Skelton has been having his for years. Red Buttons has vanished. Of course, there are the indestructible Jack Benny and Bob Hope (who is smart enough to surround himself with Lana Turner, Wally Cox and Rosemary Clooney, as he did last Sunday).

But when you look over your TV schedule you'll find darned few stand - up comedians anywhere on it on a regular basis. When you think of the lineup of stand-up comedians on radio and of how they dominated that medium, you realize there are almost none on TV.

WHAT YOU DO FIND lined up all over the place is singers and cowboys. ABC has almost made itself the second TV network with its cowboys. Of course, you may argue that Wyatt Earp isn't a cowboy and neither, most of the time, is Cheyenne or, any of the time, Broken Arrow.

But to me, anyone who rides a horse is a cowboy unless he carries a polo mallet. (If you don't pack a gun or a polo mallet, there's no point in being on a horse at all. The parking situation isn't that bad.)

We are up to our ears in adult westerns (which are adult only in the sense that the killers are neurotic, rather than just casual about bloodshed). Not only are there a dozen series devoted exclusively to this subject, it seems to me every time you turn on one of the regular dramatic shows, you find something called "Invitation to a Funfighter," or "Gun the Man Down," or "Killer on Horseback," or some such thing.

It opens with the long shot down the main street which has no one on it except two gunfighters, and you see one gunfighter through the legs of the other one (which is getting to be known in the trade as the crotch shot) and one says, "Make your move, Hotchkiss" — and then you get the credits as they shoot it out.

BUT THE COWBOYS will pass as the other TV heroes have passed. Remember when all the series opened with the private eye in his cubby-hole of an office, muttering into a dictaphone: "Well, honey, the Amberwell caper can be put into the deep freeze, but lemme tell you it was touch and go..." and then into the credits.

Eventually, the cowboys — maybe this is just wishful thinking — will follow the private eyes into oblivion or at least into decent obscurity.

While the comics are a dwindling race, it was pleasant to watch Bob Hope, whose shows have not always been the greatest, come up with one of his better ones last Sunday. I particularly liked Hope as an unscrupulous manager of one of these lunatic singers the teen-agers go mad over (Wally Cox).

Hope also played in a sketch that I seem to remember from my childhood, about a guy who comes back from a hunting trip seven years later to find his wife (Lana Turner) married to somebody else. Then he played twin roles — both the good guy and the bad guy — in a western with Rosemary Clooney. The guy certainly works for his money.

Loses Foot in Mower

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Two-year-old Russell R. Miller's foot was amputated after he fell into the blades of a power mower Thursday.

Senator Seeks Boost in Corn Support Price

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) today urged Secretary of Agriculture Benson to increase this year's corn support price to $1.50 — the same as in 1956.

Benson has announced a commercial corn area support level of $1.36 for farmers who plant within allotments.

Rep. Coad (D-Iowa) Thursday began circulating a petition among House members to ask Benson for a hike to $1.60.

Humphrey said action by Benson was necessary because of House defeat Wednesday of emergency corn legislation for the 1957 crop year.

Benson and most farm leaders have said few farmers will comply with the 1957 program because of low allotments.

Takes PUCO Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ralph N. Mahaffey, 32-year-old government lawyer, today was named chief attorney-examiner for the Utilities Commission. Mahaffey replaces Eugene Nolan, veteran commission employe, who will stay on as an attorney-examiner.

Born in West Union, Ohio, Mahaffey is a graduate of the Ohio State University law school. He practiced law in Lancaster before becoming an assistant attorney general under C. William O'Neill.

Regional Play Slated Tonight In NCAA Race

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Virtually all the scoring records for the NCAA Basketball Tournament were set in the past three years, but the big question as 16 NCAA contenders moved into four regional tournaments tonight was whether this scoring trend might be reversed

There have been a couple of signs The San Francisco Dons, 1955 56 champions, got their best results by playing solid defensive basketball and holding their shots until they counted Two of this year's first-round winners Canisius and Idaho State did virtually the same thing as they beat West Virginia and Hardin-Simmons with scores in the 60s

Canisius likely will try to keep control when it meets unbeaten North Carolina tonight, rather than take chances on letting Len Rosenbluth and his mates get their shots Some of the others may use similar tactics if they decide it s futile to run against such teams as Kansas Kentucky, St Louis and Notre Dame

The results could be just the opposite since all 16 teams have shown that on occasion they can collect large gobs of points

Meanwhile, in the NCAA Small College Tournament at Evansville Ind, Kentucky Wesleyan and Wheaton gained the finals to be played tonight Kentucky Wesleyan blasted Mt St Mary's (Md) 99 81, coming from behind with 28 points in the first nine minutes of the second half Wheaton led all the way to beat Los Angeles State 71 53

Here s the lineup for the four regional major college NCAA playoffs tonight that will qualify four teams for the final rounds at Kansas City March 22 23

At Philadelphia, North Carolina, No 1 in the nation opposes Canisius, while Syracuse plays Lafayette

At Lexington, Ky, Kentucky faces Pittsburgh and Michigan State meets Notre Dame Pitt edged Morehead (Ky) 86-85 in the opening round and Notre Dame routed Miami (Ohio) 89 77

At Dallas, Kansas plays Southern Methodist and Oklahoma City meets St Louis

At Corvallis, Ore, San Francisco opens its title defense against Idaho State and California meets Brigham Young

One stroke behind in second place was Mickey Wright, 22 year-old professional from San Diego Calif , who had a 36 37—73

Temple Insists New York Players Hold an Advantage

TAMPA, Fla., (AP) — Johnny Temple, never one to underestimate his ability, is convinced the only reason he isn't looked upon as a truly outstanding second baseman is that he does not play for one of the New York teams

The blunt-speaking young Cincinnati star believes he's the best second sacker in the National League

In a rather extraordinary interview, the fiery, tobacco-chewing North Carolinian presented an argument for himself that was difficult to refute

"What constitutes a great second baseman?" he asked "I'm a holler guy and a take-charge guy I have the spirit, hustle and aggressiveness I get on base I field my position well I can make the double play What else can they ask of a second baseman? They can't say I'm not colorful

"A player should be judged on his record But until last year people in the east didn't even know who I was Take the All-Star game I thought that next to Red Schoendienst I was the best second baseman in the National League in 1955 The experts picked Gene Baker of the Cubs, along with Red I didn't complain although I thought I was better than Baker Last year I was picked and they all moaned Why? Because I don't play in New York City "

In his three seasons as a Redleg regular the 27-year-old Temple has batted 307, 281 and 285 He led the National League in singles and at bats last year He also led the second basemen in games played, putouts, assists, total chances and double plays and he was the team s leading base stealer.

LaRue Cagers Roll Over Cardington Hoopsters

The LaRue Merchants rolled to a 75-57 decision over Cardington Thursday night in a cage battle at the LaRue floor

Rolling into a 20 13 first period cushion, the Merchants saw their lead cut to 40-37 at the half but then clinched the verdict in the third stanza by holding Cardington to six points The winners went into the fourth quarter holding a 57-43 margin

Larry Hic nan pumped in 26 markers to lead the LaRue attack while Ra; Hosey netted 14, Mike Pekach 11 and Norm Buyer 10 Davis with 20 was high for the losers.

Muskingum Coach Speaks

Youthful Athletes Urged To Retain Sports Interest

"When you take part in athletics you're engaged in an activity that has more interest throughout the country than anything else. Keep that interest high by being a credit to the sport in which you participate." So said Ed Sherman, Muskingum College athletic director and head football coach Thursday night at the annual Edison Junior High School athletic banquet in the YMCA.

Sherman was guest speaker at the banquet honoring all Edison school athletes. Also present were Gene Allison, Edison's head basketball coach; Gordon Larson and James Gibson, football and basketball mentors respectively at Harding High School; Elmer Smith, president of the Harding Booster Club; Kenneth Sommerlot, Harding athletic director and track coach, and Jess Mendoza, Edison's assistant football coach.

DONALD SIMS, treasurer of the sponsoring Edison PTA group, served as toastmaster and introduced the guests. Mr. Allison introduced Coach Sherman, recalling, in the process, that he had been privileged to be a member of Sherman's 1955 undefeated Ohio Conference gridiron tilters. The Muskingum mentor, in 12 years at the school's football helm, also won conference crowns in 1949 and 1950, in addition to the 1955 triumph. Sherman was recognized at the close of the 1955 campaign by being named "1955 Ohio College Football Coach of the Year."

The speaker suggested that to succeed in athletics an individual must possess and make use of several qualities, including a desire to cooperate, an ability to play the game according to the rules, and an ability to take on responsibility.

"Athletic teams are our finest example of the democratic process in action," Mr. Sherman said, and added: "Everyone works for a common cause in a sporting event. It takes hard work, self control and a healthy respect for others to succeed on any team. That, "is real-democracy working."

IN BRIEF TALKS given by other speakers, Coach Gibson urged the Edison boys to "keep up the fine spirit you have exhibited this year." Mr. Gibson declared that to be good advice for parents too. "Continue to play as you have and with the continued backing of your parents, we can be sure of some good teams at Harding in years ahead," he said.

Mr. Sommerlot noted that Harding had seven sports in its athletic program. "There is a place for every boy, from the biggest to the smallest," he declared. He, too, urged parents to continue to come out and back their teams, regardless of what sport was being played.

Following the formal portion of the night's program, athletic awards were made to members of this year's Edison football and basketball squads. Coach Allison reviewed the records of the two teams, pointing out that Edison was co-champion with Eber Baker in football this year with a record of four wins and one tie. In addition, the Trojans were winners of the city's football round robin, recording a 12-6 win over Eber Baker and a 21-7 decision over Taft.

Allison called the regular season grid game between Edison and Baker as the "outstanding example of team fight" of the year. He noted that his boys, in that game, marched 70 yards in the final five minutes to tie the game. On three occasions in that drive, the Trojans had the ball, fourth and 10, but came through.

Football certificates were presented to 21 members of the grid squad. In addition, Mr. Allison announced that by a vote of all the players, Pete Porietis had been declared the most valuable backfield man on the squad, while Bill Huckaba was voted the top lineman. Recognition was also given the reserve football players.

—:—

AWARDS WERE also made to 12 varsity and 11 reserve basketball players. This year's varsity record at Edison was 9-5, good for second place in the Marion Junior High Basketball League. Two of those defeats were in tournament play against Kenton and Delaware. The reserve quintet posted a record of six victories and a single loss. Richard Rees, assistant basketball mentor, paid tribute to the efforts of the reserve team.

Named honorary co-captains in basketball were Don Kern and Pete Porietis, Kern was also declared the winner of the trophy for the highest foul shooting percentage in all games played.

Mrs Dorothy Winterhoff, presented awards to Edison's cheerleaders on behalf of the school. Recipients included Kay Fortner, captain, and Angela Reams, both ninth graders; Aija Porietis, co-captain, and Vicki Miller, eighth grade; and Maija Porietis and David Freshour, seventh grade.

Recognized as managers of the Edison football team were Larry Roseberry, Ron Cooperider, Jim Everly and John Fretz. Handling similar tasks for the basketball team were Ed Jackson, Larry Roseberry, Art Augenstein, Terry Tewell and Clinton Pennington Bob Meister and Joe Bolander have been named managers of the track squad.

Members of the varsity football team were Art Augenstein and Don Kern, co-captains and Marvin Cook, Bill Huckaba, Bob Moore, Kenny Hall, Craig Willis, Bob Meister, Larry Combs, Terry Tewell, Jack Moore, John Fretz, Vance Crevistón, John Romano, Ron Buckley, Pete Porietis, Joe Bolander, Floyd Kelly, Eddie Williams, Robert Adkins and Don Rice. The reserve squad was composed of Charles Darnell, Larry Imbody, Larry Sims, Jim Moody, Mike Timson, Jim Jonsson, Fred Green, Dick Leonard, Jack Davis, Dan Wilson, Mike Thomas and Charles Robinson, all eighth graders, and Dick Pryor, Keith McFann and Dick Williams, seventh graders.

Cubs, Braves End Trade Discussions

MESA, Ariz., (AP) —A deal in which the Chicago Cubs would have acquired outfielder Bobby Thomson from Milwaukee apparently has collapsed.

John Holland, vice president of the Cubs, indicated the club is not now interested in Thomson.

The Braves once gave the Cubs a flat "no" when steps were taken to engineer a deal, but recently negotiations were reopened when John Quinn, the Braves' general manager, got in touch with Holland.

Junior High Semifinal Play Slated Tonight

It's Caledonia vs. Morral, and Pleasant vs. Prospect at 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. respectively tonight, as semifinal games are played in the annual Marion County Junior High Basketball tournament in the Morral School gymnasium.

The teams will be fighting for the opportunity of playing for the championship and consolation trophies of the tourney Saturday night. The title game will go on at 8:30 p.m. between the winners of tonight's game. The scrap for the consolation crown will open the night's proceedings at 7:30 p.m.

On the basis of points scored thus far in tournament play, Caledonia should take the floor tonight as the favorites. They can expect nothing but fight from Morral, however, and with Pleasant battling arch-rival Prospect, fans can look forward to a night of fast and determined action.

Caledonia has defeated Claridon, 58-31, and Martel, 77-12 Morral was victorious over New Bloomington, 71-8, then flashed by Green Camp, 55-28. Pleasant pounded LaRue, 32-19 in the opening round, dumped Grand Prairie, 46-18, to wind up in the semi-finals tonight Prospect has wins over Meeker, 53-198, and Waldo, 55-28.

2-State Badminton Tourney Is Slated Saturday at 'Y' Here

The annual Ohio West-Virginia YMCA Badminton championships will be held at the Marion YMCA Saturday at 1 p.m. This will be the third consecutive year the local "Y" has played host to the racketmen and the public is urged to be on hand for the spectacle these championships afford.

The local "Y" Badminton Club has won the two-state championship two years in a row and will be fighting hard for this third victory in order to keep the coveted Toledo rotating trophy which goes to the winners of the event.

Last year Marion edged out Toledo's Garber and Breed who almost captured the title singlehandedly from the local team. This year the same pair will be present along with some strong threats from Cleveland Cedar Branch who are said to be very strong contenders for the crown.

Carrying the mail for Marion will be a sure group of veterans reinforced by some new talent which will add strength to the team. George Wood and Carl Knirk, one time doubles champions, will be working together again Saturday to recapture their crown. Another pair of rugged veterans will be Tom Clark and Rudy Metzger who were beaten early last year by the same duet that won the doubles crown in class A. Slemmer and Mathiot, who won the "B" doubles crown will be moving up a notch to place a bid in that division.

Two veterans and two rookies will be carrying the mail in the "B" division for Marion. Herb Schroeder will be working along with Newt Cunningham in singles and doubles as veteran representatives of the Marion "Y" while Charlie Kincaid and John Nichols will work in singles and doubles as newcomers.

In tourney play last year the locals placed Bob Slemmer as Class B singles champion and Bud Mathiot along with Slemmer as B doubles champions. George Wood and Carl Knirk failed to defend their "A" doubles crown but will be in contention again this year as they will face the champions of last year in return match play.

All other Marionites with the exception of Nichols and Kincaid who will be under fire for the first time have had plenty of match experience and will call upon savvy to carry them through for this years championship.

Finals are at 7 and 8 p.m.

COACH CHUCK BROBECK attributes the successful season to good overall team play and an excellent all-court press.

Th Whirlpool - Seeger team, showed more accuracy from the field than at the foul line during the season. It clicked from every corner of the court for a record of 691 field goals for 1,382 points. The opponents completed 487 field goals for 974 points. At the foul line, the opponents dropped in 308 points to the champions' 287. Whirlpool committed 363 personals to their opponents' 353.

In total points, the Whirlpool - Seeger team had 1,669 to the opponents' 1,282, a difference of 387 points.

The Dohler - Jarvis team from Toledo is defending champs of the Ohio and West Virginia State Industrial League, and has been for the past two years. They enter Saturday's game with a 16-3 record.

—:—

STARTING FIVE on the 14-man Dohler-Jarvis lineup shows a considerable amount of height. Grandberry, center, is 6-9. The two forwards are 6-6 inches and 6-4 inches. Guards are 6-2 inches and 5-10.

The winner of Saturday's contest will go to the state championship tournament in Columbus.

The Whirlpool team reports there is a possibility of one more inter - divisional game with the Hamilton Division of that Corporation, before they call it quits for the season.

Reds' Bailey, Burgess Slowed With Injuries

TAMPA, Fla (AP)—Minor injuries have put a slight crimp in the Cincinnati Redlegs' catching crew.

A foul tip in Sunday's exhibition game with the Chicago White Sox bruised the index finger on Smoky Burgess' throwing hand. Ed Bailey's throwing arm is sore.

But both men are working regularly, under orders from Birdie Tebbetts. A former catcher himself, Tebbetts Thursday joked, "I have very little compassion for catchers."
